DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Part 1 is an all inclusive Title List of all titles for which we have been able to gather essential information such as title, running time, whether silent or sound, availability and main source. It also includes subjects for all films.

Part 2 is a selected list of recommended films for which annotations and additional rental sources are given as well as the Dewey decimal classification numbers.

Title: The title of the film is given as listed by the producer. If a film is known by other titles cross references are made in the index to the title given.

Length: Length is given in minutes when obtainable. Otherwise number of reels is given.

Sound: Sound films are indicated by the abbreviation "sd"; silent by "si".

Price: Both sales and rental prices have been given in so far as possible. "Loan" instead of price is indicative of a film sent free except for transportation charges. "Apply" instead of price has been used when rates and conditions vary and it is necessary to apply to producer for prices.

N.B. Prices are subject to change.

Date: The release date is given when obtainable.

Producer: The producer or main source given is the one now owning or having access to the negative of the film. A list of producers and distributors is given at the end of this Guide.

Distributor: The short lines following some of the entries in Pt. 2 give additional sources for the films, usually rental sources. Information is that obtainable at time of going to press. Symbols are used for distributors' names, a key to which will be found at the end of this issue. See Key to Symbols for special distributor's symbols used.

Guide: "Guide" is used in Part 2 to indicate the guide for the teacher with which many films prepared for educational purposes are accompanied.

Grading: The symbols given in the Key to Symbols have been used in Part 2 to indicate approximate grade level at which films have been found useful.

PREFACE

This 1946 edition of the Educational Film Guide (formerly the Educational Film Catalog), a revision of the 1945 edition, is a selected list containing about 3690 films. This edition replaces all volumes and supplements which have preceded it. As in previous editions of the Guide, the selection of films included is not confined to classroom films but includes those which are available for all non-theatrical uses, making this Guide valuable to clubs, churches, libraries, army and navy training camps and various educational institutions as well as to schools.

Revision. This edition is a cumulation of the 1945 edition and supplements published September 1945 thru April 1946, plus important new films included here for the first time. All films which are no longer available have been dropped.

History. The first edition of this Catalog was published in 1936. For years before that the Company had been making surveys and inquiries to learn whether or not such a catalog was really needed. One of the first outsiders to approach us on the subject was Mr. Abraham Krasker of Boston University in 1930. For the next five years others made similar suggestions. Finally a questionnaire regarding the form and general policies was submitted to educators and librarians and in 1935 editorial work for the first Catalog was begun.

Form of Guide. This guide follows the form of other members of the Standard Catalog Series with an alphabetical title and subject list, and a classified list. However, many titles are included in Part 1 which were not selected for inclusion in the classified list.

1. Alphabetic list. This part is placed first for convenience of the users. This includes in one alphabet, the titles of the films included in Part 2 and also many titles not selected for listing in Part 2. The classification number for those also listed in Part 2 is given so that by referring to Part 2 full information about the film may be found. Subjects have been assigned freely for all films, because educators have expressed their belief that even a few feet of film on a specific subject is valuable. The subjects given are those with which the film deals—not the particular courses in school in which they may be used. These often overlap.

2. Classified list. The films listed in Part 2 are those selected by our collaborators and are classified according to the Dewey Decimal classification. In this section is given the full information for each film: title, length, width, whether sound or silent, sale or rental prices, date of release or copyright date, producer or authorized distributor, class number, additional rental sources, descriptive annotation, critical reviews, grading and a teacher's guide, if any. Films considered excellent are starred; those rated outstanding are doublestarred. Each film is annotated in order to make the selection of the proper film easier. Indication of the source is given at the end of each quoted note. "Advisory committee" indicates a review made by an Advisory Committee on the Use of Motion Pictures of which Mark A. May is the Chairman. State names refer to the Visual Education Department of the state college or university. Other quotations have been taken from special lists which are briefly indicated. Most of the grading indicated is from information given by our collaborators when voting on the films to be included and while the films have been used successfully at the school grades indicated they may be found useful in other grades as well.

3. Distributors. The short lines following most of the entries give additional sources for the films, usually rental sources. Prices for which the film may be rented are given when that information is readily secured. When a film is obtainable from 16 or more dealers, a symbol indicating its wide distribution is given. This information is constantly changing and even tho considerable effort has been made to have these rental sources as complete as possible, there may be some omissions.

Selection. This selected list is based on the advice of many educators, on a comparison of selected lists of films and on consultation with producers and others interested in non-theatrical films. Tentative lists of titles of films are voted on by 39 collaborators and on the basis of their votes, the films are selected for inclusion in Part 2 of this Guide. The final selection represents the composite opinion of educators who are using the motion picture in their work. No one of these can be held personally responsible for the inclusion or exclusion of any film as the final decision based on these expressions of opinion was made by the editors.

Even tho there is more interest in the non-theatrical film than there was when the Catalog was compiled in 1936, and there are many committees reviewing these films, there are doubtless some excellent films which are omitted from Part 2 of the Guide because they have not been widely enough distributed to be voted on favorably. Some industrial films made for advertising purposes have been included when the votes of our collaborators indicated that they are useful. Those preferring not to use such films will be able to recognize them by the producer's name. When that does not serve as an indication a note is given as to whether or not the advertising might be considered objectionable.

Only 16mm films have been listed in this Guide.

No attempt has been made to report on the physical condition of the films listed other than general notes from collaborators as to excellence of photography or sound recording.

Acknowledgments. The editors and The H. W. Wilson Company are very grateful to the many educators and visual instruction experts who gave of both their time and advice so generously. A list of those who have regularly checked lists of films and have helped us in many ways is given following this preface. To all of these and to all who have sent us reviews our most sincere thanks.

We also wish to thank the producers and distributors who cooperate with us so consistently in keeping us informed of their activities and to thank many of them who have most courteously sent reviewing copies of films to us.

It is planned to keep this Guide up to date by monthly issues, beginning in September and by a new edition annually.

Jh-sh-c-trade-adult Guide

Produced by Vocational guidance films
"This film is a rapid, though detailed, analysis of the newspaper business from the standpoint of vocational guidance. The film begins with scenes in a newspaper office and then shows the varied lives of newspaper reporters. Then it takes up the processes of editing, setting up, and printing the paper.

"Next the film discusses the women's departments, and then it outlines one by one the departments of sports, finance, society, critical writing, columnists, editorial writers, political writers, and feature writers. A short sequence tells of the work of the country newspaper editor, who must be somewhat of a jack-of-all-trades.

"Finally, the film analyzes general abilities needed for newspaper work in all branches. A good film; effective in doing the work for which it was intended." The film is of excellent technical quality." Georgia

"An excellent film on vocational guidance for students of high school and college ages. Should be very valuable for those who wish to enter journalism." California

THIS IS ROBERT. (Studies of normal personality development ser.) 80min 16-sd-$200; rent $7.50 1942 NYU 136.7

Produced by the Department of child study, Vassar College in cooperation with the Sarah Lawrence College Nursery school. Rental given is for 3 days

Traces the development of an aggressive, "difficult" yet thoroughly appealing child from his early nursery school days to his first year in a fine public school. Clumsy blundering, confused by varied adult pressures, Robert's violent and haphazard aggression is seen as a strong, defensive counter-attack on the whole world. His mother's steady support and his teachers' firm, consistent and affectionate treatment bring him safely through the first adolescence of the preschool years to an outwardly smooth adjustment in public school, without his earlier inflammable outbursts. The film incidentally suggests the activities of modern nursery and elementary schools. Its chief purpose is in showing in ordinary situations as well as in the recently developed "projective techniques" how every individual constantly reveals to the discerning observer his deeplying needs and attitudes through the "language of behavior"

THE BOSS DIDN'T SAY GOOD MORNING. (MGM miniature ser.) 1R 16-sd-apply TFC 150

sh-c-adult

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production available only to schools

"A story about the psychological effect a boss' failure to say good morning has on an employee.

"Jones is happy; he is loyal and takes pride in his work. We see him leaving home in a happy mood. At the office, however, the boss comes in, passes him without a greeting. This alarms Jones who thinks it is an expression of dissatisfaction with his work. He is given an important sales order to rush to the factory, but is in such a state that he puts it absent-mindedly in his pocket. At home he is unhappy and unreasonable with his family. He spends a sleepless night, and a Sunday, which is usually a happy day for the family, is grim. He finds the order in his pocket; decides to resign.

"He writes a letter to the boss, gives it to his son to mail. He goes off by himself to his golf club where he meets the boss. The boss asks about the order, he is glad to hear he hasn't sent it in because the credit of the purchaser was found to be bad. Jones rushes home. Happily, the son forgot to mail the resignation. He kisses his wife and son, and all is well.

"The narrator remarks that perhaps the boss merely had indigestion the morning he failed to greet Jones.

"Recommended for discussion for social studies in the junior and senior high school, and for elementary school use in connection with the parent-child relationships." Advisory committee

Illustrates the important place of the Bible in our land and in many others and shows how thru the devoted labors of many men it came to be the Book for the world of yesterday; how its rapid passage into the tongues of nine-tenths of mankind and its world wide distribution have made it the Book for the world of today; and how we whose heritage it is are challenged to make the Bible the Book for the world of tomorrow

Among the interesting sequences are the first printing from movable metal type in Europe by Gutenberg; how a translation into a foreign tongue is actually made; and the story of the Vulgate translation by St. Jerome, still an outstanding work of scholarship

The Gutenberg press used in the picture is an exact replica of the original in Mainz, Germany

"Makes use of every art of the motion pictures to show the importance of the Bible in our civilization. The picture is intensely interesting and is skilfully done. It will give a new concept of the place of the Bible in individual life and that of society. . .

From Luke 15:11-32

"This picture begins with a scene of a group of people listening to Jesus tell the parable of the Prodigal Son. The film continues as a dramatic but faithful presentation of the parable. The scenes of 'riotous living' are presented with such restraint that one is inclined to wonder how the son spent all his money. He buys new clothes, flings money to a dancing girl (modestly clothed) and apparently spends the rest of his money on food and drink. Both the acting and voices of the characters are excellent. The sets and costumes appear reasonably authentic.

"This picture may be used with any group to which the parable would ordinarily be taught. Its use will contribute greatly to the realistic qualities of the story so that it will have an impact on the audience which the story alone, familiar as it is, could not possibly have. It will prove exceptionally valuable in promoting a discussion of the nature of God's love as Jesus represented it in the character of the prodigal's father. "Dramatizes the incident described in Mark 2:1-12 in which a sick man was let down through the roof to be healed by Jesus. . .

"The film has value in making more real the influence that Jesus had over the people of his time and of what it meant to a young man to 'follow Jesus.' A number of passages from the Sermon on the Mount are quoted by Jesus, including the Beatitudes. The use of the film will probably raise problems of 'faith healing'. People with various views will interpret this differently. If handled well in view of modern science, surgery, psychiatry and our limited understanding of spiritual powers available, it should have definite value.

"The costumes, customs and scenery are excellent so that groups interested in dramatizing Biblical stories will find the film helpful.

Costumes and settings are good, but the acting is unimaginative and the travel sequences so long drawn out that the story drags. "Two thousand years of history and art, of unified purpose and yet of change and development, sweep before the mind as the pictures come and go upon the screen. Here is a complete presentation of the smallest state, comparatively recent in origin, and the oldest international power in Christendom.

"Visitors in Rome look upon St. Peter's, the Vatican Palace, the Museum, and all the many parts of the sixteen square miles of Vatican City as places of intense interest. The striking architecture, the long list of amazing works of art and the vast Library are among the wonders of the world. . .

"A travel picture that takes the visitor on a tour such as he could make in no other way unless he gained most exceptional advantages. The film takes one to all parts of the Vatican City, to the halls and private offices, the streets and gardens, the fountains, the Library, and the famous Galleries. It shows the machine shops, the printing offices, the conference rooms. It shows patient scholars at work in many languages, bibliophiles lovingly caring for ancient, tattered volumes, the Swiss Guardsmen and many types of workers. It shows stately processions.

"We hear the Pope himself speak and we hear songs in the dim aisles of huge St. Peter's Cathedral. We stand on the roof among great statues, and we see crowds in the Plaza of the largest Christian Church in the world. . .

"The success of the Army on the firing line depends upon the success of labor and industry on the production line. And the security of American industry and labor depends upon the success of the American Army. An Axis victory means the enslavement of both labor and industry.

"The film shows what happened in Vienna, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Holland, and France: cities destroyed, industry taken over by the Nazis, labor conscripted, men, women, and children subjected to terror and starvation.

"The Axis has tremendous resources, but so have the Allies—they have the mills of Kripp, we have the mills of Birmingham; they have the Rumanian oil, we have the oil of Oklahoma, Texas, and California. Disney color film in which Donald Duck personifies millions of his fellow Americans who this year must make a choice between spending and saving. One half of this dual personality is represented by a Scottish duck, called Scotty, while the spend-thrift is portrayed by Zootie, the zoot-suit duck. Torn between these two personalities, Donald realizes that the choice is really very simple: spend for the Axis, or save for taxes. Donald makes his choice, and learns that his taxes will buy guns and shells, cruisers and destroyers, tanks and trucks, bombers and fighters—"taxes to bury the Axis"

Re-creates the forming and adopting of the first 10 amendments, or the Bill of Rights, to the Constitution. Shows the influence of James Madison at this time. Madison, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, John Randolph, Alexander Hamilton and John Jay make this historic time very real

"In dramatizing the purpose and development of the series of constitutional amendments known as the Bill of Rights, the producers claim in their opening title to have taken some dramatist's license, but state that all facts are actual, and that the dialogue is based upon correspondence of the characters portrayed.

"The result is a motion picture whose chief handicap is lack of motion, which makes it less stimulating than it might have been. However, the voices are unusually distinct, the costuming and background natural and authentic, and the continuity clear. This film should be of real value in junior and senior high school history and civics classes, and would be suitable for auditorium showings on programs connected with patriotic occasions." Produced in collaboration with Dr Ernest Horn, of the State University of Iowa, Dr Arthur I. Gates, of Teachers college, Columbia university, and Celeste C. Peardon

Describes the function of police officers in general and follows a typical city patrolman through one of his regular shifts of duty. In due course, the use of motorcycles and patrol cars with two-way radio communication is demonstrated and explained. Lessons in pedestrian and vehicular traffic safety are developed, along with the role of the policeman in rescue work and the apprehension of a speeding driver

"This is a fairly good film for elementary use in connection with safety, social studies, and vocational guidance. It was noted that in one or two instances the patrolman himself failed to observe the best safety practices. The film is within the experiences of the elementary child, and it should contribute to the formation of favorable attitudes toward policemen. Photography is good; organization and sound are adequate." Educational screen

Shows what takes place at Camp Hood. A recruit may come in wondering dazedly what it's all about, but he leaves completely educated in the ways of war

Feeding a camp of 80,000 officers and men is a transportation problem. The supplies of beef, eggs, butter, fats, cheeses, fruits and vegetables reach astronomical figures. It takes approximately 1,000 railroad cars a month to keep up with Camp Hood

War is a tough business and this film leaves nothing untold

Mayhem becomes an every day event. Guns roar at fast-moving targets. A tree is cut down by bullets that zip over the heads of young soldiers crawling on their backs or bellies under ripping barbed wire

The battalion finishes training and passes in review. They are ready to move out, and here again is where the railroads move in to do their part

"After explaining that there is a criminal population of 3,400,000 persons in the United States, Judge Marshall, who has been introduced by the Crime Reporter, says that most crimes are committed by youths under 21 years of age. He claims that they are not all from the under-privileged classes, many being the product of parental neglect.

"A dramatization follows of the case of four boys who, when their parents show insufficient interest in them, turn to crime. The father of one of the quartet happily offers to take him fishing, and this is the turning point in the boy's life. He does not go back to the gang.

"The others are involved in a series of petty thefts, finally securing a revolver. A hold-up is planned, the fourth boy urged to join them. He refuses, and finally confesses to his father who tells the father of the boy with the gun. The police are notified and appear on the scene just after the three have held up a restaurant and shot the owner. One of the boys is killed, the other two captured.

"A color film sponsored jointly by the General Electric Company and the American Locomotive Company. Tells the epic story of the development of America's railroads and the tremendous part that they played in the growth and expansion of this country.

"Humorous scenes show the mistrust and resentment that were aroused in many citizens by the advent of the Iron Horse. However, this antagonism gave way to cheers as the steady advance of the railroad opened up the more remote sections of the land. The last portion of the film deals with the important role which is being played by the railroads in the defense program." Movie makers

"Film missed the opportunity to teach the proper table etiquette in a more positive way. Too many questions raised with no answers." Collaborator

"By depicting a semi-formal dinner party where correct and incorrect table manners are used, the film poses in a provocative and stimulating manner questions concerning the socially correct and acceptable etiquette for teen-age boys and girls. This film presents through a functional approach a skillful use of the medium in providing students with an opportunity to learn correct table manners which teachers generally attempt to develop by other means. Moreover, the film will also be useful to those teachers and pupils who wish to project themselves into a practical situation wherein they may test their learnings acquired from other sources. The film brings to our attention many phenomena that take place constantly below the surface of the earth, often without making themselves known. Artesian systems, springs, water tables, caves, wells, and artesian wells are explained by animation and illustrated photographically.

"Other more spectacular phenomena such as geysers, roaring springs, hot springs, sink holes, petrification, concentration of useful minerals, and geode fillings are explained and illustrated by the outstanding examples to be found in this country." Iowa univ.

The Columbia River, which makes Portland a tideless seaport 110 miles from the sea, is seen as an important travel way for salmon.

"Badgers, both adult and young, despite their nocturnal mode of life, are seen at close range not only in the open but also within their earths.

"We watch the young ones at play and the grown-ups following well-worn tracks in search of moles, feeling the ground for earth-worms and leather-jackets, raiding a bees' reserve of honey, also scaring a hen, taking chicken food and sucking an egg or two, but never attacking a bird, even a young one.

"A bee sting on his sensitive snout sends Brock to the edge of a pool where he meets a second badger, possibly in similar plight. Wild fruits, such as raspberries, are sought out in the autumn, while fat is being laid down preparatory to a long, inactive period. Our last view of this bear-like mammal is in his cosy bed of bracken at the onset of winter.

"It is difficult to praise this film too highly for it is full of interest from start to finish and the commentary is just full enough and deliberate enough to satisfy the viewer. . . . The photography for all close-range studies is extraordinarily good.

The constant search for food on the desert, indulged in by the animals, reptiles and insects provides the action. The combats and the combatants exemplify the cunning and the hardness with which creatures are endowed. The lizard rests on the spiny perch of the cactus awaiting his prey. The gila monster prowls the hot sands to stalk his enemy. The monkey-faced owl surveys the slow motion of the clumsy tortoise while the reptiles and horned frogs, lazily bask in the sun to await the challenges of their belligerent neighbors. The badger and the huge snakes put on an exhibition. The tiny roadrunner steals the show in dispatching a snake many times its weight. Desert foliage forms several backgrounds

The setting of this film is a farm where elephants are trained as circus performers. Mumbo, a trained elephant eats her breakfast of hay. Her great ears, her small, weak eyes, her trunk, feet, and tail are shown and her great strength is demonstrated. She bathes, she drinks and wallows in the water until ordered out. She scratches her back on a tree and takes a dust bath. She is put through her tricks. Mumbo dances, sits up, rides the boy on her back, and even stands on her head. A few days later, a circus owner comes to take Mumbo away, leaving two baby elephants to be trained. A part of the process of training them for circus acts is depicted

It looks like a dahlia. Another strange worm, which appears to be half bat and half mouse, undulates across the screen. Beautiful hydroids, like creatures of spun glass, sway and bow in the ocean currents.

"A sea urchin, looking like an animated pin cushion, crawls into view. We see its eggs, enormously magnified, go through cleavage up to 16 and 32 cell stages. Then there are snails and their eggs which hatch into ciliated, free-swimming forms.

"A mother octopus guards her masses of grape-like eggs, stirring them frequently with her tentacles. Her relative, the common squid, lays its eggs in long rows of jelly. The eggs and embryo squids are shown in micro-photography. A large magnification shows the heart beating.

"A starfish swims by. A shot of the hydroids introduces the story of the formation of medusa by alternation of generations. A rabbit-like fish, looking out from its home in an empty mollusk shell; its young reveal the beating heart and capillary circulation. Another fish is brought in as an example of 'live-bearing' fish.

"This picture shows some interesting aspects of the natural life habits and activities of certain insects. . . A family of ants drink from a dew drop on a plant. A spider is introduced. Then ant lions, the natural enemy of the ant, trapping their victims by digging pits into which the ants fall. A short sequence on a grasshopper and a shell-backed bug follows.

"Next a wasp digging a hole, backing down into it, and pulling in a caterpillar. Then a scorpion and a cricket, with the face, the claws, and the stinger of the scorpion shown. A tarantula attacks and kills the cricket. After that, a mating scene between two black crickets. A spider attacks a centipede, and there is a fight between them, both being killed in a savage conflict.

"Commentary, by Pete Smith, contains a number of facetious remarks. There is a musical accompaniment containing short selections from music by Grieg, Mendelssohn, and others.

"Recommended for nature study in the elementary grades, and for biology in the higher grades. The musical accompaniment may be of interest to classes in music; and some of the micro-photography may be of interest to classes in art." Advisory committee

"This is an excellent film on ants, their life and habits. I believe that it is one of the very finest photographically." H.V.K.

"The commentary is explicit and well selected. One observing the film critically doubts some of the statements made in regard to the battle staged between the two warring colonies. However, this does not seriously impair the usefulness of the film.

"The film was first prepared for general theatrical use and was released for that purpose in April, 1936. Because of the general nature, certain features of the typical classroom film—detailed study, animated diagrams, etc.—are lacking. The film is nevertheless excellent in its appreciative aspects. This film may be used for its nature study aspects, for its ecological aspects, for illustrating the life history of ants, and for the study of their social organization.

"The photography is truly remarkable, it is not only clear but is possessed of real beauty. The film presents the story of the busy life of ants with an economy of time yet with sufficient completeness." Reviewing committee

LIFE ON THE WESTERN MARSHES. 13min
16-sd-color-apply 1945 Canada 598.2

"Each spring North America's wild ducks and geese leave their winter habitat and migrate to their northern breeding ranges. Most of them land in the Canadian Northwest, where, by June, the marshes shelter thousands of broods. Despite the rapid growth of the ducklings, teeming dangers destroy seven out of ten before they even learn to fly.

"On the ground, magpies, ground squirrels and gophers endanger the young. From the air, crows pounce on the nests, to eat eggs and ducklings. Still the greatest danger comes from man's misuse of natural resources. By allowing water systems to flood the brooding areas, many young ducks and eggs are washed away.

"The film shows how an organization, Ducks Unlimited, is preserving wild fowl from these various threats to their existence." Movie makers

WORK OF THE KIDNEYS. (Univ. of Chicago * biological science ser.) 11min 16-sd-$50 1940 EBF 612.4

sh-c-adult Guide 15c

"Several cinematic devices are used to present a detailed exposition of the kidneys and their functions. First, an analogy is drawn between machines which use selective devices and the selective processes by which wastes are eliminated in the kidneys. An animated diagram is next used to give an enlarged view of the kidneys, and to reveal the processes of transfer and filtration.

"Laboratory experiments show the properties of the semi-permeable membranes which function in the kidneys to allow wastes to pass but restrict passage of food materials. Content analysis charts compare glomerular fluid to urine. Next, anesthetized animals are used to study the factors affecting rate of urine formation, including blood sugar content and external temperature. As the film ends the narrator tells us that the function of the kidneys is comparable to that of a gyroscope in that they maintain a balance between the blood and body tissue.

"This is an unusually well-organized presentation of the function of the kidneys. Several different cinematic techniques are used to advantage, and the film is technically excellent in all respects. Suitable for classroom use from the junior high level through college."

Shows natural situations in which posture is important, selected from the everyday life of the girl or young woman. Sometimes the element of appearance is stressed, as at a formal tea, or at the dinner table. In other situations, there is added emphasis on conserving energy and avoiding strain, as, for instance, in picking up a small child from the floor. How to sit down and get up, how to walk up and down stairs, and how to carry a suitcase are a few of the points shown

There is also a short section in which carefully selected exercises are demonstrated

To obtain the motion picture, consult your state or local tuberculosis association or write to the sources indicated above and below

"Our nation is one vast machine geared to victory. All that hinders the smooth working of that machine is sand in the gears." Starting with that premise the march of events, dating from the memorable Sunday morning when bombs dropped on Pearl Harbor, is depicted in staccato flashes to the tune of Sousa's "Semper Fidelis" march. A sudden call "to arms!" introduces the President of the United States speaking the stirring words of December 9, 1941; "We are all in it. Every single man, woman and child is a partner in the most tremendous undertaking of our American history"

Alois Havrilla then tells the story of how the Army and Navy guard their ranks against tuberculosis. He shows that it is equally important to protect the men in overalls who are producing the planes, the ships, the guns, the jeeps

But other armies of workers are necessary also to support those engaged in actual war production. All must be protected against the enemy. Even the boys and girls in college, the child at home, the grandmother, must not be endangered; all are participants in this war, directly or indirectly

Mass production has produced a mass migration. That means congestion, problems of housing, nutrition, recreation, medical care and so on. Some of the things now being done to meet these problems are depicted

Much of the material was supplied by government agencies including the Office of production management and the United States Housing authority, and special permission to show, for this particular purpose, the President speaking his memorable words was graciously granted by the White House

"Immensely interesting and timely treatment of the role played by health in our war effort. The importance of guarding against tuberculosis in industry as well as in the armed forces commands the attention of a serious-minded audience." A.A. Wulff

In the first part of the film two families are compared. The first one presents a happy scene at the dinner table. But for the second family, the scene is less joyful because no one is hungry. In explaining the reasons for this, the film takes us to a college classroom where an instructor lectures on vitamins and the various ways by which some of them may be destroyed through improper cooking. . . The values of various new features found in the Westinghouse electric ranges are emphasized as the wife in the first home demonstrates her 'Vitaminized' cooking for the wife of the second family. The latter decides to purchase a new range.

Some comments of the Committee on motion pictures of the Department of secondary education follow: "Extremely effective presentation of important social problem in the dust bowl and farming regions of our country." "Thrilling and enlightening. Pitiful, and beautifully done." "I hope this picture will be seen by all schools to inspire an adjustment of conditions as they really are." "Represents splendid material for school use, either shown in school or theatre. Gives discussion material." "Propaganda disgustingly overdone. Emphasis is tiring and boring. I heartily disapprove of the film as presently presented."

Cats are trained to feed after specific sensory signals and then to manipulate a switch to actuate their own feeding signals. When alcohol is administered these patterns disappear in the order of decreasing complexity until only the original, primitive reactions remain

After recovery, the animals are subjected to a severe motivational conflict, and develop anxiety, inhibitions, phobias, motor disturbances, loss of dominance and other neurotic abnormalities. Alcohol again disintegrates these complex reactive patterns, restores goal-oriented behavior and thereby temporarily relieves the neurosis

Some animals continue to prefer alcohol to non-alcoholic drinks until their "addiction" is cured by various experimental procedures

For example, the paths of the principal arteries are drawn in grease paint on the body of a living model, and the pressure points likewise are indicated by means of circles of contrasting color. The story opens with a fiesta—tango music, the swishing of dancing señoritas' scarfs, the clinking of glasses. In the midst of this gaiety a little girl enters to ask the Padre to come quickly for her mother is dying. The hilarious tempo of the story changes to one of sadness—the mother of a happy household quietly slips away

A year passes and Consuelo, older daughter who now mothers the family causes her father deep worry for she has the same symptoms which marked her mother's decline. Sr Lopez is afraid of doctors, uninformed about sanatoria and burdened with the belief that tuberculosis is inherited. Consuelo, herself, secretly dreads her doom. But the wise Padre discovers the household's distress and persuades them to see the doctor

Then follow scenes in the doctor's office, the X-ray room and finally the sanatorium. In all these experiences Lopez learns much about tuberculosis from the doctor and nurse and he in turn becomes a missionary of tuberculosis prevention among his friends. Not to be overlooked is Pedro, an upstanding young caballero. His serenade "Cjolito Lindo" sung beneath his sweetheart's sanatorium window would cure worse things than tuberculosis. Even the watchman who discovers Pedro behind a bush, gradually weakens and vibrates with the song. Of course they get married, Consuelo and Pedro, but only after assurance that her recovery is complete. Under the benevolent shadow of Our Lady of Guadalupe in the old Spanish church the Padre pronounces the solemn benediction and then—

The scene bursts into the wedding supper where all is vivid and gay and noisy. "Do you remember," says the Padre to the doctor at his elbow, "that on a previous occasion I remarked that they are a happy people? And now I may add, a healthy people." The music is by San Antonio's unique Tipica Orchestra of 50 pieces. There are two versions: Spanish and English

"A simple, dramatic and deeply moving story which serves to point out the dangers of neglecting the treatment of tuberculosis in its many stages.

"It depicts a family of southern Negroes, in which the mother succumbs to an advanced form of tuberculosis due to her failure to consult a doctor, and to her faith in superstitious 'cures.' The daughter, upon advice from the minister, consults a doctor and discovers that she has developed the disease. . . However, with proper rest and care she is eventually cured. Her brother. . . submits to a physical examination and is told that his body was able to withstand the disease.

Produced in collaboration with Dr Esmond R. Long, Dr C. Howard Marcy, Dr Charles R. Reynolds, and the Pennsylvania State Department of health

"Demonstrates the nature, transmission, diagnosis and treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis. An opening sequence explains that sunlight and fresh air are enemies of the germ, but many city dwellers are constantly exposed to possible infection.

"Mary Smith, a slim, attractive high school girl, is introduced. She is shown taking tuberculin tests with the other students, and her test shows that she has sustained no tuberculosis infection. But soon afterward, Mary's tubercular aunt comes to live in the Smith home. Several possible means of transmitting her infection are shown. The following sequence of the film reveals the development of the tuberculosis infection inside Mary's lungs. But this time infection is walled off by defensive cells and confined to inactivity in a small cavity.

"A few years elapse. Mary, now out of school, is working. Dieting for slimness, she is getting too little to eat, too little rest and too much excitement. Animation and X-ray pictures reveal the processes of reinfection and cavity formation. After several months, Mary begins to show signs of the disease and has a medical examination. She goes to a sanatorium, where she gets fresh air, correct diet, and complete rest. In the case of the aunt, pneumothorax treatment is given.

"An excellent film for use in hygiene, human biology, and public health courses, as well as for general adult usage in public health education. The film's presentation is accurate, well-balanced, and optimistic. It is suited for use from the junior high through adult levels." Educational screen

After general views of a luxuriant countryside we come to a native Christian village where Moses M'Vondo lives with his people. Here Moses plays happily with the other children of the village until one day while swimming it is discovered that he has spots—that he is "unclean"

When his father learns of his misfortune he takes Moses to the Mission. He is examined at the Central Hospital at Elat and his fears are confirmed. His father has to take him to the American Mission for Lepers, Nko'esombo

Here they are greeted by all the people of the colony and Moses is left until he shall have recovered

Men, women and children are seen occupied with various industries and crafts
The children attend school and they have certain athletic activities. They also are provided with simple entertainment

Finally Moses is thought to be cured and submits to tests which prove that he is. His father comes to get him and amid the great rejoicing of the colony Moses leaves for his home

"Pictures first an advancing shadow covering the map of Europe. From the plague of smallpox, sixty million persons died in one century for there was no remedy but charms and superstitions.

"In England, Dr. Jenner is a country doctor. Before a pest house, guarded by soldiers, Jenner meets a widow whose child is inside. He enters to help, but the child is dead. He walks through the town to the dairy whose workers, strangely, are immune, although sometimes affected by the mild disease of cowpox. While there, he notes that one of the town boys, whose hand had been cut, had an attack of cowpox. And, Jenner ponders, the boy had probably held the infected hand of his dairymaid sweetheart and thus unknowingly saved himself from smallpox.

"Later, in the doctor's home, the widow fears for the health of her remaining child but is assured by the doctor that it is only stomach ache. Jenner determines to give the child cowpox and to do it by scratching the skin. He therefore takes the disease from the dairymaid's skin and vaccinates the child. Jenner offers free vaccinations to the townspeople, but is distrusted and his home is stoned. His announcement to the doctors of London is ridiculed, and he returns home. But the plague returns and many dead are again carried away.

"To test his theory of immunity, he injects smallpox germs into the widow's boy, previously vaccinated, and then keeps the boy under his own roof to note the results. . . On the tenth day the mother tells where her son is. A group of neighbors march in a body to the doctor's home, determined to investigate. But Dr Jenner appears in the doorway, the widow's healthy boy by his side.

"The shadow of the plague withdraws from the map. Recommended for general science classes in the junior and senior high school. Also of value for college courses in public health and health education." Advisory committee

It discusses the proper care of the eyes in daily life, warns against reading in bed and declares that knitting is preferable to fine needle work, which tires the eyes. Children should never gaze directly at the sun without dark glasses, and above all, to have good eye-sight children must have good food and get frequent rest and recreation

The inner ear is shown in detail, and the function of the cochlea with its spiral membrane and accompanying nerves is explained by further animation.

This film was produced by Audio productions and the adviser was Dr Harvey Fletcher

A train rounds the bend. In it are four men playing bridge. One causes some annoyance because he is unable to hear the bids.

Next we see a woman looking over her daughter's report card which indicates that an apparently intelligent young girl is doing very poor work. The daughter, Doris, is next seen mounting her bike and starting off. Her father arrives home and while he and the mother stand in the doorway discussing their daughter's poor showing we see Doris riding down the street oblivious to an approaching car which honks at her to no avail. Doris is thrown from her bike and although not hurt is of course somewhat shaken.

She and her parents discuss what has happened and her mother begins to think that Doris does not hear properly. The mother goes to school to discuss this problem with the teacher and is invited to watch the procedure of a hearing test which is about to be conducted. Doris proves to have far from normal hearing. The doctor suggests a hearing aid—the Western Electric audiphone.

With the help of her hearing device Doris is able to perform confidently and well. Her report shows her improvement.

We go back to the train where our old gentleman is also equipped with the device and is able to hear with ease.

He makes a business call to a company with a very poor voice and when his secretary assures him that he sometimes sounds just as bad he determines to give his company a better representation

In the next few days he becomes more and more voice conscious. The radio taught him a convincing lesson. He makes many discoveries of thoughtless telephone habits

HOW TO GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR * REFRIGERATOR. 20min 16-sd-loan 1943 GM 621.5

"A great deal of valuable information is provided on the proper care and use of an electric home refrigerator. The sections on how to refrigerate various types of food and on the care and maintenance of a mechanical refrigerator are especially well done. The commentary is clear and concise and the various demonstrations are well photographed and easy to follow.

"However, the film suffers somewhat from the inclusion of unnecessary material. The over-long, hackneyed and irrelevant tributes to American women might well have been omitted as might the recipes in the final section which, while good in themselves, are delivered too rapidly for convenient copying.

Hundreds of parts in a vehicle need the protecting film of oil

Animated diagrams show how the outer layers of tiny oil globules adhere to the metal surfaces. Lubricating oils differ in viscosity and the choice is determined by weather and temperature factors

LUBRICATION. 30min 16-sd-loan 1942 USBM 621.89

Jh-sh-c-trade-adult

Made in cooperation with Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

"Describes the theory of friction and practical application of lubrication to the various mechanical elements connected with our War effort and everyday life. . . Demonstrates varying degrees of friction. "Shows primitive means of transporting loads by dragging, then by cart, and early lubrication using tallow, animal fats, or crude asphalt on rude wooden bearings.

"Demonstrates operation of a shaft turning in dry bearing. Shows various types of oil for different uses.

"Tells the story of lubrication in the terms of use in six main classes: 1. Spindle oils to lubricate machinery with high speed but little pressure. 2. Internal combustion engine oils for different types of engines. 3. Gear oils for the many types and shapes of gears. 4. Steam cylinder lubricants to withstand extremely high temperatures. 5. Greases for extremely heavy-duty, slow-moving machines. 6. Machine tool lubricants used to aid in the cutting of metals by conditioning tools and materials that are being cut." Washington state

LUBRICATION OF THE GASOLINE ENGINE. 13min 16-sd-loan 1941 Shell 621.89

sh-c-trade-adult

Produced by Wilding

"An explanation of the principles of friction and lubrication is followed by a complete explanation of the lubrication of gasoline engines. The film begins with a series of simple demonstrations explaining rolling, solid and fluid friction. Cohesion between solids and adhesion between solids and liquids are illustrated, and lubrication is defined as the process of substituting fluid friction for solid friction. Solid friction is further explained in greatly enlarged views representing two surfaces in contact.

"Following scenes mention the viscosity of lubricants.

"A cut-away automobile engine reveals the working of the valves and pistons. The use of an oil cushion in the bearings and the working of the piston rings are shown in animation. Oils of excessively low and high viscosities are contrasted, and their defects noted. Next the film explains how lubricants are supplied to the points in the engine where they are needed.

"The hand pump and the splash systems are shown in the early cars in which they were used. . . The pump-and-splash system and the full-pressure system, both in modern use, are explained by diagrams. Several types of oil pumps are shown.

"A very good film for use in shop courses in automotive mechanics and for driving instruction classes; should be valuable also in general science and physics classes, at the junior high through adult levels. Advertising is entirely unobjectionable. Technical production is good in all respects." Don White in Educational screen

"The operator is shown studying a drawing and a table showing the dimensions of acme threads is used by him to get the dimensions of the thread he is to cut.

"The method used when setting the cross-feed index for the roughing cut is clearly shown as is also the manner in which the operator sets the stocking tool to the work and checks this setting after a preliminary cut has been taken. A magnified closeup gives the outline of a stocking tool. Commentary is used to discuss its shape and the necessity for using such a tool. The various steps followed when taking the roughing cut are shown in detail from the beginning of the cut to the finish.

"The method the operator uses for setting a finishing tool by means of a setting gage, together with the procedure followed when picking up the thread left by the stocking tool are shown in detail. Also the use of the threading dial and the method by which it is set are shown in detail.

"After the cross-feed index shows that the thread has been cut to depth, a gage is tried on the thread showing that the thread is still slightly oversize.

ASH CAN FLEET. 11min 16-sd-apply TFC 623.8

jh-sh-c-adult

Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and is available only to schools

"A group of men is seen as the film opens asking General Von Hindenberg to name the man who more than any other was responsible for Germany's World War defeat. Much to their surprise he names David Bushnell, an American Colonial inventor who built the first submarine and the depth bomb which was successful in combating it in the war.

"Bushnell is shown in his crude physics laboratory experimenting with the explosion of powder under water. The primitive submarine built by him during the Revolutionary War to destroy wooden frigates is shown in action against the English fleet. The remainder of the picture presents the 'Ash Can Fleet,' the wooden boats developed during the World War to attack submarines with depth bombs. Interesting commentary and good photography.

DRYDOCKING AND REPAIRING OCEAN-GOING SHIPS. (Harbor activity ser.) 15min 16-si-$24 1939 Frith 623.8

One "of eight reels making up the Harbor Activities Series [which] is one of the finest series of films this previewer has seen. The individual films . . . are separate units and can be used separately. However the eight make a fine series of films on a very important topic that is passed over too lightly in our schools

This reel takes a large freighter through the entire process [of drydocking]. . . The vessel floats in. She is centered on blocks on the dock and the pontoons are raised above the water level—lifting the vessel high and dry on the drydock

As the ship is raised, men in small boats scrub the entire bottom of the ship to remove barnacles and sea-growth. Now she is ready to be painted. We note that hulls are first painted black to prevent rusting, then with a red paint which tends to kill sea-growth. Men tighten the rivets. Welders wear goggles and metal masks. Their work is explained. They straighten the steel keel plate. When everything is 'ship shape,' the manager of the dock gives the order through his megaphone to lower the ship. Within an hour-and-a-half the huge ship is safely afloat and sails majestically on her way

"In a setting of rugged country between high cliffs, contractors and foremen are studying blueprints for a large construction job. We learn how the bids are let and the plans made before the work is started. Surveyors stake out the road for the direction and height of the road. Close-ups thruout the picture teach us accurately the different processes, but we stress always the men themselves.

"A real opportunity to show the different skills and crafts. . . 'Supercolossal' might be the term to use in summing up this film. It is so good that there is nothing to criticize. Photography, color, narration are excellent.

Pt.2 "Opens with inspectors and foremen. . . bending over a blueprint. . . They are studying the plans for a bridge. On a table they are making a model of a span for a bridge. For this road building project the ground has been leveled and is now ready for the construction work. First carpenters build the forms. . . The height of the walls and bridges makes a thrilling sight as the cranes lift huge concrete buckets high up in the air. . . We see how the concrete is mixed, poured, and smoothed.

"Many close-ups make us feel we are a part of this big project. An inspector uses the sun's reflection in a mirror to see down into the black corners of the retaining wall.

"If this film is considered as a separate unit from Part I (listed above), the same evaluation should be extended except that one scene, a crane falling over with injury to the man, is unnecessary. . . More than just a vocational guidance film." Secondary educ.

"An account of the reclamation of a great territory that had become virtual waste land as a result of floods and soil erosion. Poverty, ignorance and drudgery were the lot of the people. Years of an unequal struggle for bare existence had left little hope or optimism, and most of the farmers had lost all will to resist the forces against them.

"Then, in 1933, Congress passed the Tennessee Valley Authority Act.

"Opening with scenes of the original desolation, the film proceeds to show the huge construction projects which transformed this district into prosperous farming land. The greatest obstacles to overcome were the suspicion and conservatism of the Valley's farmers themselves. Those who were willing to cooperate were aided by the government's agricultural experts to restore the productivity of their soil by contour ploughing, scientific fertilization, and careful choice of crops.

This color film won 1st place as the best school produced film in the National board of review contest, 1940. It was made in cooperation with the Greenwich water company

Water running in a glass and a glass in a hand serve to introduce the subject of this film. Rain clouds gather and rain falls into a brook. Charts show the cycle of water. Pine trees and the services they perform are considered. We see natural purification of water

The film then outlines the necessity, in early times, of settling near brooks and lakes. Then came the development of mechanical aids, shown by a well and bucket, pump and artesian well. Charts show some of the dangers of sewer contamination of water.

The film then takes up the Greenwich water supply

A drop of water is examined thru a microscope and alum is added to cause coagulation. Again we see the filters and also the sedimentation process. Then we see the chlorine tanks and chlorine added to the water and bags of lime dumped into a hopper to be added also. Shots of the complicated machinery all this requires come next. Then we see men laying water pipes. A water meter is shown. This is followed by montage shots of water usages

"By means of a trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco, the operation of the airlines is illustrated. A business man needs certain papers from his Los Angeles office so that he can catch the Hawaiian Clipper. It is 11 a.m. and the Clipper leaves at 2 p.m. He phones his secretary in Los Angeles, who catches a plane and brings the papers to him just as the Clipper takes off.

"The terminology in the narration may be considered too difficult for second or third grade children, but they are becoming familiar with these terms from their general conversations and from their studies of the subject, therefore a little preparation before running the film will permit them to keep the thread of explanation. The 'Air liner' is not a sponsored film. Neither United Airlines nor Pan-American contributed anything to the filming of this subject, except to make their apparatus available for photographing. The cost of production was borne entirely by Donavin Miller Productions." Producer

"Not only is the picture informative, fine in detail, and authentic in subject matter, but it is so interestingly photographed, so well edited, and carries such an excellent balance of story and suspense, that it maintains interest throughout. Truly, I may say that it is so far ahead of the average educational film that it is in a class by itself." Alice E. Field

We see the controls of an airplane as hands and feet work them. Clear demonstrations by actual shots and animated diagrams are given of the work of the rudder, the elevators, and the stabilizer. That ailerons cause the plane to bank at the turns is also demonstrated

"The mysteries of flying are quickly dispelled in the film. . . Action diagrams are appropriately used to explain those principles difficult of comprehension. . . A study of the subject before exhibiting the picture is advisable. . . The film is especially suitable for classes in Aviation or Science in the secondary schools." Committee on classroom films

Jh-sh-trade-adult Guide

Technical production by Burton Holmes
"This film uses photography and narration to explain the requirements and advantages of automotive service as a prospective vocational field for boys. First the development of automobiles is sketched from the early models, and the narrator explains that our increased use of autos in modern life has resulted in a greater need for men experienced in the work of repairing and servicing them.
"Then various specialized shop jobs are shown, with the explanation that many service men in time become specialists since general service training is a basic requirement for all specialized jobs.

"The values to him of alertness and constant study toward progress on the job are stressed, and the student who is interested in automotive service as a vocation is advised to lay a strong foundation of school courses in physics, mathematics, mechanical drawing and shop work. The opportunities in management are sketched, and the film closes with a suggestion of the rewards which a young man may gain by qualifying himself for work in the automotive service field.

"A good film. . . Although the considerable amount of material included necessitates a somewhat rapid tempo, the information given is well-balanced and accurate. . . Photography and sound are excellent." Educational screen

The film opens with a view of the lovely mountainous country of Japan. A volcano is seen and a very attractive view of the famous Fujiyama. Many scenes of intensive agricultural operations follow, showing how a country with little agricultural land puts that little to its fullest use

Outside and inside views of a typical farmhouse, and interesting views of the family partaking of the simple meal are shown. The principle crops are mentioned, and there are scenes of rice growing. A tread-wheel used for irrigation is shown in operation. There are a few scenes of simple skill farming activities, where the women and children help with the harvest

Japan has well wooded forests which supply the farmer with his fuel and timber. This attractive film truly shows how these frugal people make a little go a long way

Contrasting fences of today with those of our forefathers, the film depicts some of the crude barriers made of stone, stumps and rails. This historical theme is carried on by showing some of the early wire fences and primitive methods of farming

The mining of iron ore, its transportation from the mines to the steel plant, its conversion into iron in huge blast furnaces, refinement into steel in roaring open hearth furnaces, rolling of the steel and drawing into wire, galvanizing of the wire for subsequent weaving into farm fence—scenes showing all of these and intermediate steps in the making of woven wire fence present a story of one of the world's greatest industries

The manufacture of other steel products, such as fence posts, barbed wire, nails, staples and bale ties also is illustrated. Proper and approved methods of fence erection are demonstrated in detail. Such operations as installation of both wood and steel corner post assemblies, preparations of the fence for attaching to line posts and the final stretching of the fence are covered

In the old days land was plentiful but as newcomers arrived and land became scarce conflicts arose. In those days it was first come first served. Such reckless use of grazing lands made for future barren wastes. Then came the forest service with its new order of range management. Stockmen and rangers were brought to understand each other and work together for their common good. We see round-ups and the moving of cattle from home ranges to national forest lands. There are shots of the branding and inoculation against disease. Stragglers and weaklings are given a lift in a truck

Arrived at their summer home the herd is counted and turned out to graze. Rangers make inspections and we go with one on his tour. He consults the hired rider and they compare notes. Given a chance to recuperate from grazing the homelands yield crops of hay

At the first sign of bad weather the cattle begin to drift back home and when snow appears they really move. Now they are off to market. A quick overview of the improvements to the towns brought about by this better management and a shot of our narrator ends the film

sh-c-adult

This is a Soil conservation service film. As beautiful scenes of the countryside unfold the commentator tells us that much of America's oldest farming land is in the Northeast. The serious soil erosion situation is frequently taken care of by terracing. We learn how terracing is done, its advantages and see land so cultivated

Terracing is used successfully for growing potatoes, tobacco, truck farming and for fruit culture. Cover crops are planted and when turned under add fertility to the soil. It is necessary to inspect the terraces regularly and to keep the channels of the outlets clear. Narration was especially clear. It was given by M. S. Joyce

A presentation of the Forest service. We are introduced to Casey and his young son as they sit forlornly contemplating their barren land. We are given to understand that wind and drought have wrought this havoc and Casey is unable to think of a plan to reclaim his land

A Forest service official arrives and convinces Casey that he should plant windbreaks. Here is a map of the U.S. locating forest projects is shown. We are shown how people blown about a city street seek shelter close to buildings. In a laboratory a man demonstrates with a small model, an electric fan and a pinwheel that a planting can protect the ground

Casey gives it a try. Sturdy seedlings from forest nurseries are planted and carefully cultivated. This shelter belt develops so satisfactorily that others are planted. By the time the first belt is five years old some of the trees can be cut to permit others to grow better. These provide good fence posts. The efficiency of the belts is shown and also how they may be used for family picnics. We see the improvement in the soil and the crops

"The film uses a story to tell how a dog can be trained. A boy receives a dog as a present but is disappointed when the dog proves mischievous and troublesome. He learns that dogs can be sent to school, and a professional trainer shows in detail the methods used in training dogs through the primary stages which include learning to 'heel', sit, lie down, and retrieve upon command. The boy applies these methods in training his own dog, with noticeable success.

"A three-month-old Persian kitten tells, through titles, of his experiences, and suggests the best ways to care for cats. After an appropriate introduction, Fluffy appears in characteristic activities. He chews shoestrings, stares out of a window, looks at the goldfish, and plays with a pencil. He explains that he likes to look in dark places and under things, and he is shown as he looks for a mouse.

"Several views of the kitten asleep appear as he says that he can sleep anywhere as long as he is not bothered. Kitten's-eye views reveal how big and tall the household furniture appears to a little kitten. Fluffy explains that he is usually hungry. . . He doesn't like baths, but he keeps himself neat and clean. His sanitary facilities consist of a pan and a newspaper. He says that it hurts when he is picked up by the nape of the neck; his mistress demonstrates the proper way of holding him.

"Views of his paws and claws accompany an explanation that he needs a log to scratch, instead of the furniture. He says that he won't scratch when you play with him, unless you play roughly. . . When he gets into intentional mischief, he is spanked. . . He doesn't care about toys. . . He likes simple things such as a ball on a string. He exhibits his training by jumping over his mistress' outstretched hand, and then he sleeps in a box.

"In conclusion, he shows how he looks when normal, curious, angry, hungry, and sleepy, and then he appears prettily dressed in his best ribbon to say 'Good-bye.'

"An excellent film for use in kindergarten through third grade in general elementary studies, including reading and animal life. Accurate information concerning kittens and their care is provided in the film, and the vocabulary is correctly graded. Photography and titles are good; organization is satisfactory." Presents the work involved in production in processing and marketing the products of very full life, and one must like to work with animals if he is to make a success in this vocation. Many jobs on the dairy farm are shown, such as herdsman, milking and separa-

the market. A knowledge of animals and cost accounting are important. Such jobs as a feed expert are held by men who have a knowledge of dairying

Dairy plant operation, product processing and marketing offer many opportunities for trained men and women, particularly in the larger dairies. Among these are butter makers, cheese makers, laboratory testers, ice cream

"Condenses a vast amount of scientific data into a simple and easily understood account of how the cow functions as a 'milk factory.' It was produced with the cooperation of Professor W. E. Peterson, nationally-known authority on dairy husbandry at the University of Minnesota, whose studies of and experiments with the milk cow form the basis of much of the film's content. Other findings were contributed by the Ralston Research Department.

"The film shows that the productive life of a cow is in four periods—dry cow, calf, growing heifer, and milk cow. Through the use of animation, and natural color in some sequences, is revealed the workings of the cow's digestive and milk-producing organs. The correct diet for the cow is stressed, and the importance of proper milking, if the product is to be plentiful and of good quality.

Food is shown as an important factor in promoting the international goodwill which can pave the way for the increased foreign trade without which prosperity at home cannot be assured. Food is shown as the key to stable economies, to the establishment of democracy in those lands so recently under dictatorial occupation, and to the preservation of the law and order without which there can be little trust between nations and small hope for lasting peace

The farmlands and transportation systems of Western Europe are seen ruined and disrupted both by enemy action and Allied bombing. The combined political effects of scarcity and inflation are pictured in the cities where hunger is most acute

Sick and starving civilians are not shown but there are equally disturbing scenes of the unrest and violence to which men are driven by famine—flourishing black markets, which lead to financial instability, street fighting, and food riots

"This color film tells of the activities of the du Pont Company in bringing to our everyday life new and useful products made possible through chemical research. The film opens with views of laboratory apparatus as the narrator states that the chemical laboratory is in the vanguard of modern progress.

"First, a realization of chemists' dreams is shown in Neoprene. . . . Next, liquid-repellent fabrics are demonstrated in a dramatized skit. Fire-retarding agents, useful for women's dresses, are demonstrated.

"To make rayon, cellulose sheets are shredded, liquefied, and forced through spinners, wound on spools, dyed, and woven. A West Virginia plant which makes Nylon is next shown, with a brief explanation of raw materials and some of the methods. In a hosiery mill, the Nylon thread is knitted into women's stockings. Other uses of this product are shown in the making of brushes and fishing line. The Lucite plastic . . . is demonstrated. We also see furniture and other household articles made of this and other plastics. The film ends with scenes of girl models in their synthetic dress and using synthetic furniture, as the commentator emphasizes the value of chemistry to our life.

"An excellent film for use in chemistry and physics classes; should have some value for social science classes, and should be very effective in general showings, at the junior high level and above. Of limited value also in elementary grades. The film makes effective use of color; photography and sound are good. . . . In a few scenes models appear clothed in undergarments and bathing suits; some schools may consider these scenes unsuitable for their showings. For that reason, it is recommended that the film be screened by faculty members before being exhibited to students." Educational screen

el-jh-sh-adult Guide
It is snowing—but inside a house a coal fire keeps things cozy. A boy opens a book titled "Story of coal" and then the film proceeds to tell the story

In an impressionistic way it shows how the earth was in a molten state millions and millions of years ago and how it then began to solidify causing buckling or the forming of mountains and valleys. Jungles of giant trees grew up. An animated diagram shows the work of the sun on growing things. Then we have lightning, rain and even a hurricane

We see the decay that takes place in swampy land and the surf pounding against the shore. All of these are shown to have helped in forming peat beds and later coal. The way in which thick layers of matter were formed is clearly shown and under magnification a lump of coal shows the same layer construction. The pages of the book are turned and we read "Coal—where it is found." On another page we see a map which indicates where coal is found in the United States

The pages turn to consider "Coal mining." The story carries us down a shaft and operations within the mine are shown. After being carefully gone over and washed the coal is loaded on to freight cars

"Opening scenes attempt to show how, through the action of geological forces petroleum may have been produced in past geological eras. The function of vegetable matter and diastrophic movements are stressed.

"Subsequent scenes show how oil wells are drilled and how, the well once under control, the oil is pumped to the surface and stored in temporary reservoirs. Before proceeding to the refinery, the oil is dehydrated.

"Final scenes show in animation how the petroleum may be separated into the various fractions by means of a 'batch' still, and suggest the possibility of obtaining additional gasoline through cracking processes.

"The film does a rather good job of giving the auditor a feeling for the excitement attendant upon the opening of a new oil field, although a more complete treatment would have helped. However, in certain other respects the film is unsatisfactory. The method by which oil is produced in the earth is incompletely developed. . . The film is unsatisfactory, also, in its treatment of the refining process.

"The reviewing committee agreed, nevertheless, that the film would probably have a rather high degree of interest for high school students in connection with courses in chemistry or general science. . . The various scenes were clear, the sound quality was excellent, animated drawings were employed judiciously, technical terms were either explained or their use avoided." Natural sciences panel

trade-adult

Made in cooperation with the Aluminum company of America

Opens with reference to the different alloys of cast and wrought aluminum, and the effect of alloying, heat treating, and cold working on the machinability of alloys. There follow instructions in the use of hand tools such as chisels, files, reamers, taps, and dies, the metals best suited for such tools, the correct methods of sharpening, chip removal, cutting speeds, and the importance of finish on cutting edges

Cutting compounds are explained, including roughing and finishing operations in the lathe, planer, milling machine, and shaper, machine drilling, reaming, threading, sawing, and grinding. The importance of the top, back, and side rake, clearance and cutting angles of machine tools, are emphasized. High-speed, automatic screw machines, their speeds, tools, and coolants, are explained

trade-adult

Sponsored by Dow chemical company

Film opens with conversation of two air-transport passengers—an airplane designer and a practical production engineer who have visions of glant stratosphere planes carrying passengers and cargo, and small helicopters for family and individual use

These achievements are inferred to a large extent by use of magnesium, which is shown to exist in sea water and in salt bines under the earth's surface

Research engineers are seen in the laboratory where the mysteries of magnesium are uncovered

Production of magnesium is depicted in detail by animated drawings and actual scenes

The design is transferred to the dampened leather. The modelling is done. India ink, blended with water provides permanent colors. The holes for lacing are registered from the pattern and punched with a hand punch. A drive punch is used for the snap buttons and the key plate. An eyelet spreader fastens the key plate. Parts are laced together. The ends are cemented inside the coin purse. A chemical compound readily available is used to clean, polish and preserve the leather

"Schools and individuals working on handicrafts will find this pictorially pleasing as well as instructive. Women in costume of Colonial days go about the old arts of carding, spinning and weaving woolen and linen fabrics. The illusion of looking backward at domestic history is well preserved, and groups interested in the subject will find the film very much worthwhile, altho the action is slow and undramatic. Good footage on difference between linen and wool spinning wheels which is sometimes difficult to find." 16mm reviewing committee

el-jh-sh-c-adult

Irish peasants raise and prepare flax for linen just as they have done for thousands of years. Harvested from the fields, the plants are placed in water warmed by the sun and kept immersed by weights tied to the end of each stalk. For a week, the stalks are soaked, then taken from the water and spread over the fields to dry in the sun just as they have been since antiquity

Most of the mill-workers we see are girls. They draw the warp and create the designs to decorate the finished material. The finished linen is taken from the factory into the sunshine again. The warm rays bleach the cloth to the exact white or cream shade required

In the factory, ancient ways give place to new. Modern machines and modern processes are shown

Ironing is almost the last process. It may be done on a giant pressing stone. One is shown which was installed a hundred years ago and is still in service. Tracework embroidery finishes the job. Tested in the laboratory with modern chemicals, the cloth is finally declared fit to find its way into the markets of the world. Back to their cottages troop the workers

jh-sh-c-trade-adult Guide

The film points out that the many phases of the building industry employ thousands of men who work with wood. Furniture, mill work, and pattern making establishments employ wood working craftsmen in large numbers. Shows carpenters erecting scaffold, setting forms for concrete foundations and walls. Men are shown constructing a house from foundation through to the flooring and finishing. Mill working operations are portrayed, such as sash and door, stair building, and cabinet assembly. Small cabinet shops offer another field. Work in veneer and furniture factories is outlined. Wood pattern-making is covered also

In the woodworking field one can hope to be a foreman, a contractor or to own a shop. The picture closes with scenes of a student working in the school woodworking class and a summary of how mechanical drawing, mathematics, and sciences will help the student to better prepare himself for the woodworking field for the cover of the book we now see made is decorated by finger painting. It is then laid aside to dry for use later. Sheets of wrapping paper, folded, form the sections or body of the book. After folding, the sections are placed between boards and clamped. We see the sewing in and out thru kerfs and inserting of tapes, and the gluing of super or gauge and a strip of firm paper to back of book. A strip of binders vellum is marked and pasted to the board. Covers are pasted to the board and are rubbed on thoroly to avoid air blisters

The cover paper is rubbed gently but firmly in place. End sheets are pasted and book is inserted in its covers. The finished product is held up for inspection

DAWN OF ART. 15min 16-si-$75; rent $3 1943 Stites & Jones 709

Jh-sh-c-adult

Producer has not verified information recently

"Indicates at the start that art is complex, arising from many cultural needs. Cro-Magnon men and women are seen working in a rock shelter near Font-de-Gaume, France. They sew or scrape skins, make hunting tools, decorate a lamp, gather nuts for the winter. Food is scarce, so the men who have returned from the hunt empty handed consult a medicine man who tells them he will make powerful hunting magic.

"By tallow lamplight they go to a chamber deep in the cave. After a ceremonial dance they prepare their colors and paint the famous deer of Font-de-Gaume. . . The men appear by the stream where one spears a fish. Then they see the deer and stalk it. They throw their javelins and the deer is brought down.

"The hunters return with their game and have a feast, after which one of the men takes up a bone and engraves his story.

As Jerry passed the local Manson factory, a crowd was gathered outside. He stopped to see "the fun." Someone on a soap-box was shouting "down with this—and down with that" and then a stone was thrown through the factory window. Jerry would have gotten into the brawl that followed, but Mike, a policeman and friend of the boy's grandfather, took him home in "protective custody"

After a stroll Gramp and Jerry sat down on the City Hall steps to chat. The old man knew the town when it was just a "vacant lot." He recalled the time when Manson came to the little settlement seeking a factory site. He saw the factory constructed—and the town grow up around it. He told Jerry how every man, woman and child has a stake in the success of that factory. Jerry learned some American fundamentals and was grateful.

"Actors in this film greatly increase student interest in the story of a small town and the influence of a factory to this community. Grandfather, after discovering his grandson to be participating in a protest against the factory, relates the history of the factory, and tries to show how the income of this plant has made possible much of the life that today exists in the community. Film should be most stimulating for introduction to the field of interdependence of peoples." J. Frederic Andrews

The tree is placed in the pit and the soil properly replaced. Necessary moisture is provided, and some Davey tree food. The trunk is protected from sun scald and borer attack and fastened with guy ropes until its roots become anchored. The top is reduced to compensate for the loss of roots and weak v-shaped forks may be removed

The making of medals and coins is demonstrated by Laura Gardin Fraser, best known for her official Government medals of Lindbergh and Byrd, and for her work for the National Sculpture Society

Several sketches precede the final drawings, one for the face and one for the reverse, exactly the size the finished medal is to be. On smooth plaques of modeling clay, three times as large as the finished medal, Mrs. Fraser then sketches in the outlines of her design. Working directly from the living model, deftly she builds up the relief with tiny rolls and balls of clay. With delicate touches of the finger-tips the artist little by little improves the rough figure. The film shows all the steps of transforming these clay plaques into plaster moulds, casts, bronze moulds, and then finally steel dies reduce to one-third the size of the plaques. The steel dies in turn, placed in an enormous stamping machine, stamp out the finished medal

The Evans family at Dexter, Missouri produces pottery as their forefathers did 150 years ago. Men dig clay from mine. Clay must then be thoroughly cleaned and left outdoors to weather for several months before use. It is next shoveled into a press which presses it into a solid mass. Working is necessary to remove air pockets. Wedging. Clay is carefully centered on the wheel after which the basic step is the shaping of a cone

Throwing complete, the work is dried to leather-like hardness after which it is again put on the wheel for smoothing. The kiln is stacked with ware for firing. The pottery is inspected. Glazing. The technique of modeling a vase on the wheel is demonstrated by Eric Hellman, graduate of the University of Copenhagen. Starting with a piece of clay on a foot-powered wheel, the processes of centering, shaping the bottom, lifting the sides, and shaping and finishing the vessel are shown

The vase is carefully lifted off the wheel and left to dry in the air. It is then fired in the kiln; when cool, the vase is dipped in the glaze preparation and again baked. The final shot shows the completed vase

"The technique of modeling a vase on a foot-powered wheel is admirably shown. Silent titles are unnecessary and were not used, so excellent is the close-up photography that reveals every detail of manipulation of hand, foot, and few tools.

"Reaction of secondary students to this film leads us to recommend its purchase in all art classes doing this type of work. The handling of the glaze solution, and some shots of the kiln seem unimportant and unnecessary after the excellent modeling demonstration."

Produced by Jam Handy. Revision of film first issued in 1937

"Provides a valuable means of presenting or initiating discussion in the field of art in industry. At a review exhibition at Teachers College, Columbia University, teachers expressed approval of the film for the field of art, presenting, as it does, a means of stimulating an appreciation of the coordination of artists and engineers in supplying everyday commodities.

"Suitability of the film for vocational guidance and social studies was also expressed. The use of the elements of design in designing automobiles, and automobile parts and electrical refrigerators is touched upon, together with an overview of the nature and surprising extent of the work of the staff of artists.

"The method by which an automobile body is transferred from designers' drawings to a complete full-size model is briefly but interestingly outlined. Technically the film was considered satisfactory.

"Photography and sound are adequate as is the general direction and interest appeal. Although a considerable range of subject matter is covered, it is well enough unified that it does not appear crowded or to carry the learner along at too rapid a pace.

This is a film record of the fifth annual exhibition of Young America Paints, held in the American museum of natural history, New York. Marie Falco, Art Director of Young America Paints is introduced. We see the Museum

Screens full of paintings as we learn that 120 pictures were shown, an excellent cross section of young America's work. Naturally all of them could not be included in this film and the pictures shown were chosen for photographic color value or to explain the use of a particular medium

Finger painting is demonstrated, and Ruth Shaw, author and lecturer on education and psychology who introduced finger painting into this country is seen at work. We see one of her finished pictures and some of the things finger painting can be used to decorate are suggested

To a musical accompaniment we see an elementary group of paintings. Interesting work with wax crayons is shown in enough detail and with enough explanation to permit one to go and do likewise. Panels representative of the work of junior high school students are seen. Work with dry color in compact form, applied dry with a felt tipped brush is demonstrated

Then come panels which are examples of work done by senior high school students. Most of the work is impressionistic but there are numerous abstractions and many examples of textile and wall paper designs

Supervised by Henry P. Rossiter, Curator of prints at the Museum of fine arts, Boston

The whole process from the original sketch to the final print is shown. The artist who illustrates the technique of drypoint is Mr. Frederick G. Hall, of the Guild of Boston Artists, best known for his etchings of Old World houses and people.

To make quite plain the means by which the various characteristic tones of drypoint are produced, he makes a small plate illustrating the specialized uses of the individual tools. Then, on a larger plate, with drypoint needle, diamond point, graver, and roulette Mr. Hall builds up the portrait, which he has transferred to the plate from the original sketch, by minute ploughing of the copper.

The artist then inks the plate thoroughly and puts it through his hand press.

ETCHER'S ART. 30min 16-si-$50; rent $2 1929 Harvard 767

Supervised by Henry P. Rossiter, Curator of prints at the Museum of fine arts, Boston

At the request of the Museum of Fine Arts, the widely-known artist Frank W. Benson lent his cooperation for this production.

A brief historical and explanatory resumé at the opening of the film displays etchings by various masters, past and present, reproduced from original prints in the Museum.

The artist begins by transferring a pencil sketch by pressure to the coated and smoked surface of a copper plate. Then, guided by the faintly visible lines, Mr. Benson's delicate needle cuts through the coating, thus exposing the copper along the lines of the drawing. When the hundreds of lines which compose an etching are all exposed, the artist floods his plate with acid to etch them into the copper. He then cleans his plate, inks it, and pulls a proof.

So few people realize the great difference between the acid process (etching) and the tool process (drypoint) that it is suggested that this film be shown together with "Drypoint," listed above

Originally produced for motion picture meeting of Southern California section of the American chemical society

"This film was designed to show the chemical end of the motion picture industry. The commentator, with the aid of diagrams, explains the photographic process. Diagrammatic drawings of silver-bromide crystals are shown and we are told of the chemical reaction that occurs when light falls upon them. There are experiments illustrating what occurs when the crystals are given exposures of different intensities and how they receive and store the latent image.

"The following sequence deals with the different chemicals used in the formation of the developer, and the fixing bath. A comparison is drawn between the 'dark room' operations of the old days and the new, modernly equipped laboratories. The film closes showing a positive print being made from a negative.

ABSTRACTIONS. 10min 16-sd-$27; rent $1.50 1938 ITTCO 780

Produced by R.K.O. Pathe

"Abstractions" is a most unusual and interesting departure from the usual run of films available to schools in which an attempt is made to relate visual form and motion to music. Abstract forms and images first play on the screen with music well suited to the mood; then follows a cameraman-artist's concept of the spirit of machines as interpreted by close-up shots of details of moving machines—pulsating pistons to the throb of jazz, swinging parts to swing, gears, round, square and oval—the pace of machines reflected in the pace of jazz. Following this, the derivation of unusual textile designs from African jungle life is shown, still accompanied by appropriate music.

"At a review exhibition at Teachers College, Columbia University, a group of teachers expressed definite approval of the film for use in schools. Several in the review audience found that they, themselves, experienced a concrete understanding for the first time of the concept of interpretative music. . . Would be of particular value to the creative and imaginative teacher of art or music. And it should be observed that its success would undoubtedly depend more than the usual film on adequate interpretation by the teacher. . . Assembled from theatrical short subjects originally produced by Pathe. . . Photography, sound and direction are excellent." Donald Doane

"The story of the writing of the French national anthem, with a background of martial music. . . Unfortunately this film contains a serious historical inaccuracy. It assumes that the Marseillaise, written in 1792, inspired the storming of the Bastille. The storming of the Bastille took place in 1789. It was the attack on the Palace of Tuilleries in 1792 which followed the events portrayed in the beginning of the film. With this made clear to the pupils, it should be of some help in history classes, grades 7 through 12.

"Recommended for classes in musical appreciation and historical backgrounds of music, grades 7 through college. Psychology classes in grades 10 through 12 would find it interesting as a study of the effect of music in rousing war emotions." Advisory committee

"In 1811 Francis Gruber the village school teacher of Oberville in the Tyrolean Alps, and his close friend the village priest, Father Joseph Mohr, witnessed the romance of Ann Brebder, daughter of a rich inn-keeper, and Louis the Village carpenter. Ann's father, a patriotic Tyrolean, objected to Louis courting his daughter, because Louis' father had fought in Napoleon's army when the Tyrol had been guarded by the French and regarded him as the son of a traitor.

"Although her father disinherited and denied her Ann and Louis were married by Father Mohr. A son was born. Just before Christmas in 1818 their home was destroyed by a snow avalanche in the Alps. Coming to her father's inn the night before Christmas, he refused to admit her.

"Ann and Louis and the baby went to a neighbor's for the night and placed their infant in a stable, as there was no other place. . . Inspired by the touching plight of the couple, the victims of prejudice, Father Mohr wrote the immortal lyrics of the hymn, 'Silent Night, Holy Night.'

"The next day he had his friend Francis Gruber, the teacher, set the lovely lyrics to music and on Christmas night introduced it for the first time at Christmas mass. . . I recommend this film for any group." J.K.W.

EVOLUTION OF THE MOTION PICTURE. 21min 16-sl-sd-$48-$72; rent $2-$3 1940 B&H 791.4

Presented by International educational pictures

Back in 1600 B.C. Egypt used shadow pictures. Then Leonardo da Vinci happened accidentally on a camera of mirrors, which he later improved. In 1640 A.D. Kircher invented a magic lantern. Then came the urge to add movement and we see a comic figure which was used. In 1804 in England Dr Rodet demonstrated persistence of vision. In 1835 Plateau in Belgium added his contribution and in France in 1850 Daguerre invented the photographic wet plate

In 1860 Colman Sellers in Philadelphia illustrated synthetic motion by photographing poses and then Edward Muybridge demonstrated action by instantaneous photographs. In New Jersey in 1886 Thomas A. Edison built his first moving picture machine. In 1889 at Rochester, George Eastman invented flexible celluloid film base. In 1890 Edison demonstrated his first movie talkie. In 1893 we had the world's first motion picture studio—the "Black Maria"

Examples of pictures made on the old cylinder machine are given. There follows a sort of rapid kaleidoscopic viewing of films progressing thru the years. Then we see the mutoscope, an early rival of the Edison kinctoscope

Chalk talks follow, then a portion of a film made in 1906 which was the first animated cartoon. Diving is seen at regular speed and at slow motion. A parade gives us fast motion. We have next the microscopic filming of the eye of a fly taken from one of the scientific films by Louis Tolhurst. We are given an example of an old silent film. Then in 1928 came sound and we are given an example employing most of the sounds we have become accustomed to hearing—talking, singing, whistles blowing, bands playing, etc

A portion of a cartoon is given next. In 1934 sound was improved. We have the voice of Irene Dunne. Then as the commentator summarizes a little we have views inside churches, meteors falling, etc

"This film makes plain to all who see it the mechanical electrical and visual principles through which modern talking movie films are made possible. The pictured story traces the production of a Hollywood feature release from the unperforated raw film to the eventual shipment of 16mm reduction sound prints in labeled metal containers." School management

"This film offers a clear, vivid, extremely compact presentation of the mechanical, electrical and visual principles behind modern talking movie films. It illustrates 'persistence of vision,' the momentary retention of images within the eye which alone makes possible the illusion of motion on the screen.

"The part played by each successive machine—perforator, camera, developing machine, splicer, printer, projector—is then made clear. The recording of sound on the film and its reproduction are portrayed by animated drawings . . . and by showing an actual image of the sound track of the voice explaining how sound reproduction takes place.

"A particularly full teachers' pamphlet accompanies the film. Features are an historical outline of the moving picture idea from 1600 B.C. to the present time—a list of needed technical terms—a vocabulary aid on words new to pupils—and especially a series of selected stills from the film with elaborate explanatory captions giving the contents in continuity form." Tells the story of persistence of vision and how it makes motion pictures possible. A short history of silent motion picture entertainment. Educational edition by William F. Kruse. Related by Commodore J. Stuart Blackton. New York, 1896

First theatrical use of pictures that move. Boys swimming. Coney Island and then the elevated trains at the Bowery. The cake walk taken on the roof of Madison Square Garden. Horse drawn fire engine. Easter Sunday parade on Fifth Avenue, New York. In 1897 production begins. On the roof of the Moss building New York. Scenes from "Sister's beau." Shots from the first real special effects film

First newsreel service. The gallant 69th regiment of New York marching down Broadway. Shots showing how the film of the battle of Manila Bay was made. In 1900 a visit to a magician was filmed using trick photography. In 1902 nickelodeons were showing films exclusively. Here several shots suggest a show of that date

Then we have a series of short sequences from old films in which we see old-time favorites, or early efforts of present day stars such as Blanche Sweet, Henry B. Walthall, Harry Carey, Lillian Gish, Maurice Costello, Lionel Barrymore, Rudolph Valentino, Milton Sills, Viola Dana, Tom Mix, Francis X. An earlier duelling scene is shown and the film ends with the first close-up ever filmed

"A good film for presenting some samples of early motion picture art; it suggests some of the improvements which have been made. It is suited to use with camera clubs, motion picture appreciation classes, or for general auditorium purposes. It might be of some use in social studies classes in a study of communication.

The film follows the making of a puppet of this type from beginning to end

In this particular puppet, the finger stall is first made with light cardboard and glue, to which the cotton head filler is securely fastened. A stock is pulled over the filler and finger stall and cut one inch below the stall. The operation of making the face of the puppet is then shown in complete detail, from sketching and painting the features through fastening the hair in place. The dress is made from a pattern. When the dress is sewed to the now completed 'head' of the puppet, it is ready for use

el-jh-sh

The Type II puppets differ from Type I in that they have faces with built-up features—otherwise they are just alike. The process of raising the features commences with making the frames for the eyes, nose, and ears, of wire. When the wire has been inserted and fastened to the sock, papier maché is made to cover the frames. The process of making the papier maché and the ingredients are carefully depicted. When this mixture is of the correct consistency, the features are moulded and fastened to the already inserted frames

Mixing the paint and decorating the features is shown to aid the beginner in determining the proper shading and the correct procedure. A method of steadying the hand while painting concludes this half-reel. Models of this type of puppet are shown in action

A simple puppet theatre is shown in the course of construction. The style of the "stage" is as elementary as possible, so that beginners may follow it clearly. A "curtain" is constructed from an old roller shade, and decorated. Methods of keeping the puppets on an even line during the course of their action are clearly reproduced

When the stage is completed, a short play, using the characters of Hansel and Gretel, is produced. Various other characters appear, and scenes from both front and back stage are included

Rockefeller Center, New York. Instructors Pearl T. Goerdeler and Jo Mallonee

Bobo, a clown marionette, is constructed here. On the small stage of the Universal School marionette theater, two marionettes dance. A work table with the necessary tools laid out upon it. The body is made of a block of sugar pine. Indicated portions are cut away. The shoulders and body are rounded with a coarse file. The legs and arms are cut from 3/4" dowel. Cotter pins are used as joints. The foot is shaped and weighed with lead. A stuffed chamois glove is nailed to the arms. Legs and arms are attached to the body. The head is modeled in clay, greased and a plaster mold is made. A thin rubber hollow composition cast is made and painted with poster color. The head is attached to the body. The finished marionette is shown

Small screw eyes are placed in indicated positions and fish line strings attached. Bobo is dressed in made to measure clothes. The control is made from lattice strips and strings attached. Mrs Goerdeler demonstrates manipulation of the strings. Bobo, the clown, is then seen in action with a trained seal

Miss Deren's films are in the best tradition of progressive modern art. Such experimental research as hers is a fundamental requirement for the development of a contemporary esthetic. She has not only proposed but accomplished a method whereby the moving picture can again become an instrument of great artistic achievement

After several shots of people playing this fast and dangerous game we see two men in an office examining the basket used in playing the game. Then follow slow motion shots of a game

In some detail we see how the ball is made and weighed, then a box of them is given to the "ball boy" who delivers them to the players. A player tests several. Then we have a closeup of a basket maker at work. Then we see a player adjusting a basket for playing. Shots of a game again

Now we follow the training procedure of a man as he eats, reads, has a physical examination, is treated to a rub-down, takes a shower and dresses in his dressing room

We switch to the crowds lined up at the ticket office. The players march in, line up, lift their baskets in salute to the crowd and begin to play

Plays by the country's outstanding teams. Analyzed by Nat. Holman, head basketball coach at the College of the City of New York

"An opening talk by Mr. Holman emphasizes the value of teamwork. The man-to-man defense is shown, with the means best used under varying situations to counteract it. Variations are shown in the sliding man to man, combination man to man defenses; and the fixed zone, shifting zone, and pressing defenses are included. Other fundamentals, including passes, receiving, and pivot plays are sketched.

"The film closes with another short talk by Mr. Holman in which he states that baskets are seldom accidents and there is both an attack for every defense and a defense for every attack. Throughout the film, the scene alternates from practice games to championship games to show various details.

"Should be useful in coaching boys' basketball teams and possibly as a subject of general interest during basketball season." Georgia

"The emphasis is placed on the necessity of practice to achieve playing technique. The actual skills are not too clearly shown.

"The chief value of the film is its use as an incentive to practice. There are some nice 'stop-shots' in the midst of play." NSWA

"Thrills and spills mingled with cold chills on ice give this action packed film a fast pace right from the very start, and the action gets faster every minute. Beginning with the sport of skiing and ski jumping the film shows a number of experts of the blades sailing through the air and landing in a number of different ways, all but a few with the skis in the air and the skier on the glistening snow. A scene at night with each skier holding a lighted torch makes a beautiful effect.

"Scenes of iceboating at 80 miles per hour and ice skating races follow in rapid order. Auto races on ice provide a number of clashes and much excitement for the spectators.

"The film then returns to the skiers who by this time have hitched up to a horse for more speed. Horses begin too slow, they switch to motorcycles for power, and finally end up with airplanes pulling them at great speed over the ice and snow. "The film shows the world's greatest figure skaters and ski jumpers skillfully at play in an intelligently edited and well-photographed sequence of action at St. Moritz, where European contestants are limbering up for the Olympic winter sports. The skill and grace of Sonja Henie, Roger Turner and Maribel Vinson will have audiences 'ahing' and 'ohing.' Subsequent shots of bob-sledding and ski-marathons will stand up equally as well, thanks to the witty and inoffensive narration of Don Beddoe." Film daily

sh-c-adult

The original Broadway cast of 33 artists, who portray their same roles in the film, includes Arlene Francis, Sidney Lumet, Horace Braham, Frederic Tozere, Arnold Moss, and Alice Reinheart

Maxwell Anderson has selected a passage from Luke which tells of a Passover pilgrimage to Jerusalem by the Boy and His family and this is the chronicle of that journey

As the twelve year old Child and His family rest in the hills, they are accosted by the robber-prophet Ishmael. He recognizes the Boy as the true Messiah and leads him safely through the guard of Herod's men stationed at the gates of Jerusalem watching for His possible arrival. In the Temple, Jesus confounds the priests of the Sanhedrin with His profound knowledge and wisdom while they are discussing the coming of the Messiah Herod's men pursue Jesus without success

When the King learns of their failure, he orders the persecution of the Jews, believing they will rebel, and that a leader will arise amongst them who will be the Messiah whom he seeks for slaughter. After a scene between the Boy and His mother, the play ends with Jesus exhorting His kinsmen, who face persecution, to have faith. It is then that He is recognized as the Leader whose coming they have awaited

"Three present-day business men . . . discuss a plan for finding the Kidd gold. One of them says his information will take them to a small island off the coast of Madagascar. A dramatization of the story he tells shows the pirate and his band attacking a ship, finding a treasure chest, burying it. Kidd shoots the two men who know the hiding place, but draws a crude map of the location. The business man claims to have this map.

"Another of the three men conjectures that Kidd was not a pirate, but had been commissioned by the King of England, and that his crew mutinied and seized the chest.

Sequences include the problem of projection distortion; early maps and globes; latitude and longitude; Mercator's, Mollweide's, and Goode's projections; and distance contrasts between points on the globe by land, water, and air travel routes.

"The Great Circle route is traced on Mercator's projection, and airplane and steamship travel distances are compared. Alaska is shown to be closer to Berlin than is New York City. In conclusion, the film shows how from Tokyo, Berlin and Chicago the outer limits of each area can be reached by air within twenty-four hours, and that consequently our thinking with regard to the world about us must be revised to conform with the tremendous implications of modern air travel." "Gypsies" tells about the efforts of a member of the Soviet government to try to get the band of nomads to whom he has been assigned to settle down and become collective farmers. Loath to give up their freedom, the gypsies listen patiently to the government representative and eat the food given them by the authorities, but make no real effort to give up their wandering life." N.Y. World-Telegram

"While presented in plot form, the piece is really thinly veiled propaganda, although its performance is theatrical enough, since the cast includes chiefly professional actors. . . But the gypsies' life lacks the glamour that tradition attaches to it, and the emphasis laid on the Kolkholz (Collectivists) in their reform of the wandering nomads strips it of even elementary enchantment." A liner arrives from America in the busy harbor of Gothenburg. A jaunt into the Chateaux Country in southern Sweden reveals some of the most gracious scenes which the country has to offer. Fine old castles, lovely gardens at Norrviken, and a typical summertime beach playground on the southern coast

A trip to Stockholm follows by way of the Göta Canal. Along the way we see rich farmlands of central Sweden, Lake Takern, a sanctuary for water birds, and the town of Vadstena. In Stockholm we see modern apartment buildings, the Royal Palace and the summer palace of Drottningholm. King Gustaf, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf and his younger brother, Prince William, as well as the King's brothers, Prince Carl and Prince Eugene are seen, each occupied at his special profession

The picture deals with a variety of characteristic bits of "colorful Sweden"; the yachting regatta at Sandhamn; Visby, on the island of Gotland; Upsala Castle and Cathedral; and then Dalecarlia, "the heart of Sweden," with its picturesque churches, scenery and folkways

At the height of the summer season in Sweden, the quiet villages are transformed into populous little cities. On Midsummer Eve—June 23rd—the peasants gather from all the outlying farms and hillsides, to revive the quaint pagan custom of raising the May-pole, which is covered with their blue and yellow national colors, and decked with garlands of flowers. The thousands of men, women and children, in their gay festive attire, gathered around the pole at twilight, present a most interesting sight

The following Sunday, Midsummer Sunday—we see another brilliant spectacle. The peasants, in colorful costumes, assemble from the neighboring mountain farms and in their distinctive parish-boats, which seat upwards of forty people, row rhythmically across the lake to the famous church at Leksand, built in the fourteenth century

This four-reel film is the work of Theos Bernard, the first white man ever to live in the Lamasteries and Cities of Tibet, and records his life amongst the Tibetans. The beauty of the mysterious plateau with its deeply religious people is fully revealed in the picture." Educational screen

"The film first details, on black-and-white film stock, the way in which permission to enter Tibet was secured. Out of the jungled tropics and over the 14,000-foot-high pass leading into Tibet, the expedition's caravan of men and donkeys travels six days through the bleak country to reach the first point of interest shown, a Buddhist shrine and cairn. The first city is entered at an auspicious time, since religious ceremonies are taking place. These strange ceremonies are shown in some detail. Continuing on its way, the expedition journeys 300 miles to reach Lhasa, the capital.

"Beginning with the approach to the city, the film changes to color (Kodachrome) stock and continues in full color throughout the remainder of the film except for a short sequence dealing with Theos Bernard's inauguration ceremonies. Just outside the city walls of Lhasa, the film shows the beggars, detailing some of their customs. Scenes in the city's streets and markets include shots of the unique portable jail cell with its prisoner on public exhibition. The King Regent, supreme ruler pending the finding of the Dalai Lama, receives the expedition with gifts of welcome. A traditional story-dance, the longer version of which lasts several days, is shown.

"The great stone palace on a mountain-top, standing 300 feet high and 900 feet from wing to wing, is presented in the next sequence. Climbing to the roof of the palace, the camera shows its eaves of solid gold an inch thick, and the golden gargoyles which decorate the eaves. Changing again into black-and-white, the film shows the all-day prayer ceremonies which inaugurated Theos Bernard into the monastic sect of the Tibetans. The remainder of the film, in color, shows the final portion of the journey, visiting Shigatze and other cities and returning through the mountainous country down into India." Collaborator

"We found this to be the best of the British Library films and, indeed, the best of all the films on contemporary India. Really excellent for adult interest in India. Like all Library films it has a definite pro-British slant, but is really remarkably fair. Some of the Indian reviewers felt that the evils of industrialization and social change should be shown, city slums for example. Above all a picture that gets away from the stereotyped exotic to show department stores, night clubs, and factories in an industrialized India built upon an overwhelmingly agricultural India." A. el-jh-sh-c-adult

Also available in a 70min version
Produced for the Dodge division of the Chrysler corporation by Armand Denis and Leila Roosevelt and presents an account of the Denis-Roosevelt Asiatic expedition

The film opens with a few shots of children playing with an unusual boat and leopard kittens. This brings about a natural introduction to the family. The parents point out the path of their trip on a globe and then follows the exciting and unusual story

There are many shots of beautiful pagodas and gem-encrusted temples in and near Rangoon in Burma. There are excellent shots of a most unusual water wheel made of bamboo and rotating on a teakwood axle. The expedition visits the once thriving but now dead city of Padaung

A sequence is devoted to the odd "giraffe neck" girls and one girl actually permits the removal of the brass collar

There are most interesting shots of leg-propelled native boats used for transportation at one stage of the journey. Soon after this the expedition proceeds on foot

Much footage is given over to the elephants—working in the teak wood forests, hauling logs, caring for their young, bathing. The next leg of the journey finds our expedition mounted on elephants. Something of the majestic feel of this mode of travel is conveyed in the shots that follow

Finally the party arrives at the village of the snake worshippers. They are permitted to accompany a priestess up the mountain side and to photograph her as she makes her symbolic offering to the king cobra. It seems that no male child has been born in the village for over a year and to appease the snake god the priestess must kiss him on the head three times. This terrifying but awe-inspiring performance is shown in detail

"An interesting travelogue with straightforward commentary. Unusual and informative subject matter. This film is unusual among travelogues because it shows not only native life but also the modern aspects of the country. The film starts with the bathing of the sacred white elephants of Siam. We are then taken to the market place and we see the fruit stands, etc.

"The graceful and energetic stick fight is next presented. A snake farm is visited and these snakes produce the most deadly snake poison known. The snakes are cultivated and the poison is used for an anti-toxin for snake bites. A very exciting picture of a fight between a cobra and a mongoose is shown. The fight seems rather cruel because the 2 are caged in a small box. The mongoose, which is a domestic pet of the Siamese, is used to protect against snakes and is the winner.

"Next a fight between 2 fish in a bowl. This is used as a Siamese gambling game. Then a boxing match with the hands of the combatants bound with rope and the fingers left free. The fighters make much use of their feet and no holds are barred. In Siam training is started at the age of 10. We next find ourselves on the River Bangkok. We are shown the luxurious yachts of the rich Siamese. Next we find these same people riding in high-priced cars. Bangkok is shown as a modern city with theaters, etc." Harold B. Jensen

"This film of the five races who live in Malaya is a British importation of fine photography and teaching value. Ways in which these various types of people live and work are shown, from the native Sakai, who hunt with blow pipe and poisoned dart to the British who rule the region. The part that each racial group plays in the progress of Malaya is emphasized.

"Malay, Chinese, and Indian are shown at work raising rice and rubber and mining tin. Though this film shows how five races can live together in the same region, one feels that there must be conflicts and discriminations that are ignored in the production.

"On the whole this is an excellent film to use in showing progress and customs of the human race from a primitive culture, through several stages, to a more highly developed order. This film may also be used in teaching the character and importance of agriculture and mining of this region to world markets." Scholastic "A very good, very interesting educational travelogue on Malaya. Photography was good, sound excellent and the picture is a very entertaining educational travelogue done in a professional manner with interesting and informative commentary. The film shows the five faces or five peoples of Malaya from the savages of the interior to the cultivated and aristocratic settlements in Singapore. The various aspects of the lives of the natives are shown. The native dances, native customs, how they prepare their food. How they reap and thresh their grain, etc.

"The film then goes on and describes the lives and habits of the other four 'Faces' of Malaya. It is all done in a very professional manner and highly engrossing. The film ends up with the British and a brief account of what they have done in and for the Malaya States. There is a slight bit of British imperialistic propaganda in this part of the film but it is not enough to be objectionable. All in all a very good picture." Harold B. Jensen

"Rounding the Cape of Good Hope, a brief visit is made in the great modern city of Capetown, from which quick transition is made to the rolling plains of the interior, and finally the jungle itself. . . The humped African cattle are guarded jealously, and the size of a man's herd establishes his position in the tribe as well as the number of wives he may have. Markings on the face and body designate the wearer's relationship to family or sect. Children squat on the ground of the village street while the women procure milk from the cow for immediate consumption on the spot. Monkeys play with and plague the youngsters. A father teaches his young how to build a fire by the same method that now is taught all Scouts.

FRENCH-CANADIAN CHILDREN. 11min 16-

Houses of French-Canadian farmers are almost hidden by huge snow banks built up by the winter winds. Mother Dufour is getting her children ready for school. Hector, Lorette, and Rachel are advised to behave and study well, and then their father calls them, for it is time to start. Conversation in this film is in French. Roger, who is only five, remains at home. Gay good-bys are called as they start off in the sleigh

Little Roger knows how to get wood, cut by his father last summer, from under the heavy snow. Arriving at school Hector, Lorette, and Rachel joyfully join in a snow fight. When the school bell rings, reading is the first lesson

Meanwhile, father is crossing the St. Lawrence River on the thick ice. Here he meets neighbors, who are cutting ice from the river. Back home, mother, and an older sister, Mariette, are busy making rugs which they will sell in the summertime. When school is out, Roger meets the other children with his sled, and his dog Poilu. This is a heavy load, but Poilu is equal to it

Mother puts fresh wood on the fire. Rachel takes up her knitting. Soon father arrives and preparations for supper are begun. Early spring finds father at work among the sugar maples. The family visits him here as he works

On Sunday the Dufours and their neighbors go to church—sleigh bells mingling with the solemn call from the spire

It begins with the French Canadians in the eastern part of Canada. Glimpses of their life are shown and the scene shifts to views of the Scotch groups located in the same part of Canada. After this we see the fishermen, lumbermen and coal miners, all from eastern Canada. Many views of Toronto are given. Then the scene goes across country showing views from Calgary, the Canadian Rocky Mountains and Vancouver. The purpose of this film is to show the different types of life in Canada and its democratic make-up

Will be useful in promoting a better understanding of Canada and a feeling that Canada is as much a "melting pot" as the United States

"Shows the endurance, vision and tolerance of the Canadian pioneers. A stirring message of tolerance." Collaborator

"A good film for classes in sociology, for various studies in social science, and for general showings, from the junior high through adult levels. Photography, sound, and organization are uniformly good, and the film contains no noticeable propaganda of any kind." Don White in Educational screen

Presented by the Department of mines and resources. The film opens with distance shots of mountain roads with an automobile winding up the mountainside. It proceeds to Banff and gives a shot of the information office where arriving cars stop for information as to gears and gradients. The clothing of the tourists here indicate that this is not a new film. The film proceeds with many more scenic views. There are some closeups of a herd of deer met on the way. Johnston Canyon is explored, the steps down which the Indian god Uki steals at night to carry off naughty children are visited. Lake Louise is seen and then we proceed to the Great Divide. Following many scenic views come shots of moose in closeup. In the valley below is Kicking Horse River, Emerald Lake, Watta Falls, Golden Grove and at this latter place river and railroad emerge to the broad valley of the Columbia. A young Indian on a horse outlined against the sky brings the film to its finale.

The splres of Ottawa's government buildings outlined against the sky open this color film. But Ottawa is a city of people. They have made of their home a planned city, with streets running out from the central area they call the Plaza. They have built the beautiful driveways, bordered them with trees and parks and they live here, play, go to school, marry and work here.

Lumbering is significant to the development of Ottawa and many men of Ottawa work in the mills at neighboring Hull. Twenty thousand of her citizens are employed in government offices. The children play baseball in vacant lots and regale themselves on hot popcorn. Housewives choose crisp vegetables and new eggs from the farmers' market just below the House of Parliament.

Race and religion meet and mingle. There is a quaint old French section, called Lower Town, and a newer English section called Upper Town.

In summer many swim going up the Gattineau. In spring they go on picnics and in fall they walk in a blaze of autumn color. Winter brings snow that brings joy to the hearts of the children. They build themselves skating rinks by pouring water on the ground to freeze and then skate and skate. Men with large, horse-drawn sleighs shovel snow off the streets and out on the hills the skiers swarm for miles.

This film outlines the life of a people against a panorama of dignified government buildings and changing seasons

A film about real people—the fishermen of the state of Vera Cruz on the Gulf of Mexico. The cast is composed of actual fishermen who live in the town of Alvarado in Vera Cruz, and it is their experience, their sorrows and their struggles which the film depicts.
The story itself was generated by the direct contact of the producers with these fishermen.
Adhering closely to the actual events of their lives, it dramatizes the conditions of their existence and the implications of their predicament

"Tells of fishermen in Mexico who are exploited by their employers. It centers upon one man, whose child dies from lack of money to provide medical care. He leads a strike for fairer pay, there is a battle among the workers—the strikers and those who for one reason or another are against the strike—in which the man is killed. His death unites all the workers, who at the end appear to be on the way to a victory for their cause." Nat.

Produced by Franchon Royer. Yucatan is located on a map. The commentator gives a little of the early history. The film proceeds to some ruins of an earlier civilization. Descendants of these ancient people live today in the town of 1941. The film then follows a typical ten year old boy thru a normal day's activities. His early morning duty is to carry water from the well. He helps his father with the work on the hacienda. He must go to school as must his little sister. We see the costume and head-dress of the mother and sister

The father feeds the animals. Father and son work together making sisal fiber or hemp from the henequen grown on the hacienda. This is taken to the mills which work just long enough to take care of the harvest of the preceding day or two. It is dried outdoors on racks in the sun. It is baled and put on platform cars ready for transportation. The boy and his father are seen spinning a fine even rope as the commentator gives brief details of the simple home life. The little girl sleeps in a hammock made of her father's soft twine. As the boy walks down a road the film slowly ends

The historical reason for the title of this film is that New Hampshire was the necessary ninth state to ratify the constitution. Colonial houses and doorways are first shown, followed by a trip to the Isle of Shoals and quaint Gosport church. The State House at Concord is shown with the statues to Daniel Webster, Gen. John Stark, and Franklin Pierce. The parade is shown which was held to commemorate the ratification of the constitution

These background scenes are followed by others to show some of the industries and advantages of New Hampshire as a State: its water power for generating electricity to use in transforming pulpwood into paper; the use of its granite in many of the public buildings in Washington, D.C.; its high schools, state university, and Dartmouth College; its popularity as a summer playground for adults and for children's camps; the beauties of the White Mountains; fun in fishing in well-stocked streams; the summer theatre; the Mt Washington and the Flume, also the aerial tramway

The concluding scenes show New Hampshire's agriculture, dairy and poultry farming; and the fun to be had in the winter sports of skiing, skating, and dog sleds. Narrated by Alois Havrilla

"One of the best two-reelers ever to be fashioned as good-will ambassador for a community's industrial and recreational advantages. . . The finale, following stirring shots of New Hampshire in Winter, in contrast to the already delineated Summer glories, is ingeniously devised." Film daily

This color film first gives an impression of the hustle and bustle of the crowds of this metropolis. We see the Holland Tunnel and some of the bridges which bring more crowds to the city daily. People arrive by train, by plane and by ship. There are views of the Statue of Liberty and of New York's famous skyline. We see New York's busy harbor. Overlooking the harbor is Wall Street with Trinity Church at the Broadway end. Across the street from the United States Sub-Treasury building is the New York Stock exchange

New York's first skyscraper was the Flatiron building. We see the Woolworth, the Chrysler and the Empire State buildings. The Municipal building overshadows the New York City Hall. We see Essex Street—city retail market, a wholesale vegetable market and the Fulton fish market on Old South Street. The lower east side of New York is crowded—especially where the Bowery and Chinatown are located. Housing projects like the Queensbridge housing group have helped this situation some. There are medical centers such as Welfare Island in the East river, Columbia Medical Center on the Hudson, New York Hospital and Cornell University's Center. We see the east and west side express highways

Greenwich Village artists exhibit their work at Washington Square. Moving up Fifth Avenue we come to the New York Public Library, then to St Patrick's Cathedral and Rockefeller Center. Gardens and skating at Radio City are seen. Views of Park Avenue follow. Views in and around Central Park, including the Zoo and the Metropolitan Museum of art

Up Riverside Drive we see the Soldiers and Sailors monument, Grant's Tomb, and the Riverside Memorial Church. There are views of Columbia University. Up to Harlem with its colored population

There are shots of children at playgrounds, and of the beach at Coney Island. The film closes with day and night views of the busy Times Square section

"It traces the history of wildlife in the state from the days of Daniel Boone, when wild birds and animals were abundant, to the day when these resources were reduced to the point of extinction. ARIZONA—ITS MINERAL RESOURCES AND SCENIC WONDERS—Continued

The commentator then speaks of Arizona's hidden wealth and of its livestock ranges. A map gives some idea of the state's topography, and points out the principal mining districts

Remains of an Indian pueblo village are shown. Then men are seen panning gold in a stream. Placer mining is spoken of and the importance to the development of Arizona played by the early pioneer. We see the once riotous town of Tombstone in its present day quiet

There follows a lengthy tour of many of the mines of the state. We are told what is mined and the type of mining with statistics at each location. This covers mining of copper, gold, manganese, mercury, limestone, gypsum, sericite, feldspar, onyx, silica, asbestos and bituminous coal

Here we start on another type of exploration of the state. We visit Granite Dam, Coolidge Dam, the Colorado River and Boulder Dam. We consider irrigation problems and see the storage project near Yuma

We next consider the agricultural achievements of the state

Cattle raising is a long established industry. Yellow pine are raised extensively as proven by a view of what is said to be the largest forest of these trees in the world

At this point the film goes into color. We see the Mission of San Xavier del Bac, the desert with its fascinating cacti and Saguaro, Montezuma Castle and Organ Pipe National monuments. We visit Phoenix, Canyon Lake and the Painted Desert. We see the beauty of Oak Creek Canyon. Northeast of Flagstaff is Sunset Crater. We visit the Petrified Forest. Then we go on for views of the Grand Canyon on one rim of which dwell Hopi Indians, busy at their native crafts and performing a ceremonial dance. A movie set is shown of Tucson as it used to be and then we see the modern city of today with its splendid hotels. The University of Arizona, Phoenix and the State Capitol building end the tour of Arizona

"To promote interesting and friendly relations between the Americans of the Western Hemisphere. Animated maps show dates of European conquests of Latin American countries, chains binding America to Europe, dates of freedom of these countries. Scenes show their resources, occupations, industries, sports, education and the advance of science in treating tropical diseases, the importance of trade relations between the Americans today.

el-jh-sh-c-adult

This color film presents the story of the trip made by Walt Disney and his talented crew to South and Central America. Their impressions and experiences as they travelled from country to country are recorded through cartoons and live action.

Their first stop was Brazil's beautiful capital, where Joe Carioca, the parrot who is a figure of Brazilian comedy, joined the other Disney creations.

From there, they went to Montevideo and then to Buenos Aires, where they took time off to go to an estancia for a barbecue and an opportunity to see some of the native Argentine dances.

They flew over the Andes to Santiago, Chile and from there up the west coast through Peru, Colombia and Bolivia and Venezuela.

During all this, they found enough material for numerous drawings, sketches and cartoons, and there are amusing sequences of Donald Duck at Lake Titicaca and Pluto in the Argentine, where he learns the intricacies of a gaucho's wardrobe.

After a visit to Mexico the film ends as we see the bewildered customs official looking through Indian blankets, sketches, pottery, silver, rugs and scores of other souvenirs.

A color pictorial record of the trip through South America which Disney and his artists made. Although most of it is live action, it contains some rough cartoon sketches of ideas evolved from their experiences. Some of these can be recognized as the basis of SALUDOS AMIGOS; however, the film is not a 16mm version of that film." Arch A. Mercey

"Represents life in Argentina by showing the daily lives of people in Buenos Aires and by explaining the city's dependence upon the Pampas for export products. The film opens in Buenos Aires as Roberto Campas, an employee in a meat packing plant, goes to work by subway. A wealthy broker, Senor Rodriguez, goes to his office by automobile. In the packing plant, some of the processes in preparing Argentine beef for market are shown. Senor Campas returns home for lunch. In his office, Senor Rodriguez dictates an order for a new automobile. At the docks, ships are being loaded and unloaded with the exports and imports vital to the city's life.

"But making both possible, there is behind the cities another Argentina—the land of the vast Pampas, used chiefly for agriculture and grazing. Typical agricultural activities on the Pampas are shown. Great herds of cattle, with their gauchos, form a picturesque sequence, as do the sheep which roam the plains. Back in the city, Roberto Campas and his family are seen visiting the zoo, and the film closes with views of their home life in the evening.

"An excellent film for classes in the social studies, particularly geography, from the junior high through adult levels; should have considerable value also in elementary grades. After brief expository material on the geography and history of the country, the film shows Argentina as it is today. We see department stores in Buenos Aires, visit motion picture studios, the Teatro Colon, and the ultra modern apartment houses that surprise many a tourist

Mr Bryan stresses Argentina's attempt to make herself an industrial country. The Argentines have made every attempt to promote their own industries, such as the manufacture of fabrics and shoes, farming and sheep raising. However, their greatest problem is the shipping of beef. The "refrigerated ship" brought Argentina its great trade, but introduced a difficult question between two nations

Leaving the serious side of the picture, we see the people of this great southern republic as they work and play and as they enjoy themselves at a barbecue

"First the film tells of the location and topography of Bali; then come scenes of elaborately carved temples. Rice, the staple food, is shown being cultivated and threshed by semi-nude native women. The following sequence, in the village market square, shows the customs of trade among the natives.

"A short sequence deals with pottery making. The next sequence, somewhat more lengthy than those preceding, deals with the Balinese religious ceremonies which seem so strange to the Western eye: the semi-nude girls bring offerings, a street procession carries weird-looking figures, and a witch-dance, accompanied by a native gong orchestra, concludes the ceremonies. The film ends with emphasis upon the tranquility of life on the island of Bali.

"A typical travelogue, unusual only because many scenes of partially nude native girls and women are included. Lack of depth

"An excellent presentation of Eskimo life, carefully portraying the environment of these inhabitants of the Arctic region, their mode of life, customs, habits and costumes. This is an educational film of superior merit which lends itself admirably to schoolroom use where it will really make a child live vicariously through the hardships of Arctic life.

"This film can be shown to all grades from kindergarten through senior high school. In the elementary grades, its geographical significance could be utilized to vitalize the teaching of the activities of these people. In the senior high school a skilled discussion leader would center discussion around the thoughts of appreciating the human struggle for existence, of realizing the hardships of other people, and of appreciating our own social and economic advantages.

"The simple story which in no way detracts from the customs, dress, and mode of living of these people, the highly artistic photography, the interesting lighting effects, the skillful handling of the closeups which reveal the phlegmatic character of the old father, and the naive reactions of the people as a whole, and the euphemistic strains of the symphony have contributed much to the charms and beauty of this unusual picture." despite her dismissal by General Garfield, continues her work. Falling health compels her to seek a cure in a Swiss sanitarium. There she is approached by a group of people who are desirous of her aid to secure the membership of the United States in an international organization, the Red Cross. She unsuccessfully asks Congress to adhere to this international organization, but when a great conflagration comes to one of the nation's cities, Clara Barton, in her own name, asks the aid of the Canadian Red Cross.

"With the coming of this help the entire country awakes to the service which the Red Cross stands ready to give. A montage of scenes of disaster, against a waving Red Cross flag, closes the film.

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production available only to schools

"Opens with a view of the Hall of Fame . . . The scene shifts to 1825 with young Maury as a midshipman, at sea. . . Crippled for life . . . he is transferred to a bureau. In an old record room . . . he comes across an entry of certain wind and weather conditions and remembers that his own observations made by chance at the same point recorded similar conditions. He makes an intensive study of the old records and eventually maps out a chart of the ocean's behavior regarding currents and wind directions.

"News comes to a shipowner that one of his vessels is reported rudderless and all aboard are feared lost. Maury charts its probable position and sets forth to seek it. It is found, and recognition of his work comes to him. The father of the U. S. Weather Bureau, the whole world honored Maury. . . Then came the Civil War and Maury resigned his commission. Eventually he returns to finish his life as an obscure professor at Virginia Military Institute.

"The picture closes with views of diverse modern activities, all aided by his studies of wind and weather. Recommended for classes in physiography." Advisory committee

el-Jh-sh-c-adult

In this picture are brilliantly colored flags calling out messages in Washington, New York, Philadelphia and Los Angeles. A brief historical introduction shows ten of the more important flags of the United States

We see the upholstery shop where Betsy Ross made her flag and Independence Hall in Philadelphia. We learn the meaning of the flags that fly over the White House and Capitol in Washington

We see ships from Holland, Sweden, Rumania, Denmark, Honduras and the Philippines, all showing their colors. The English and French ships, at war, show only one spot of color—the flag. All over the world ocean liners are signalled into harbor by flags—the pilot flag, the medical quarantine flag, the coast guard flag, famous blue Peter. Flags even give the name of the ship in flag code

Red flags are the symbol of danger. Weather bureau signals flown by the marine exchange are seen warning all ships headed for rough seas. The coast guard flag rescues a boat in distress relying on the primitive rule of the sea—"Anything flown upside down is a call for help"

There are decorative flags, tattooed flags and flags as identification. Boy Scouts signal with flags; a scout master tells the story of flags to his troop and most strongly stressed—Old Glory bids us uphold the ideals for which our flag stands

"Beautiful kodachrome color. . . Provides a good general survey which is both interesting and instructive. . . The film's chief fault is that it crowds in so much information that people in the audience are likely to fail to remember much that is told them. This could, of course, be compensated for by a follow-up of certain of the more important sections of the film. Excellent film." Secondary educ.

Jh-sh-c-adult Guide

"Animated maps, scenes from newsreels of the period, and commentary combine in this film to explain the major causes and the immediate effects of the 1914-18 First World War.

"A general outline of casual factors, beginning with the year 1879, the following are cited: The Triple Alliance between Italy, Germany and Austria; the Berlin-to-Bagdad Railway plan; The Franco-Russian Dual Alliance; Germany's increasing inroads on British trade, leading, in 1904, to the Anglo-French Entente

Cordiale; three years later, Russia joins and makes it the Triple Entente; Germany and France dispute over Morocco; this is first decided in France's favor; in 1908, Austria annexes from Serbia the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina; Russia protests; in 1911, another Moroccan crisis, which is adjusted by allowing concessions to Germany in Africa. A rising Serbian national spirit is opposed by Austria. So, in 1914, Europe is armed to the teeth but still hoping for peace. Then Archduke Franz Ferdinand is assassinated at Sarajevo; Austria delivers an ultimatum to Serbia; then, balked by Serbian resistance, Austria declares war. Other declaration of war follow: The First World War has begun.

"The course of the War is traced in the next sequence. Germany drives into France. Turkey joins the Central Powers; then Italy comes in on the Allies' side; the opposing navies fight the Battle of Jutland; Germany begins submarine warfare; the Lusitania is torpedoed; finally, Woodrow Wilson recommends that America declare war; other neutrals enter. Torn internally by revolution, Russia quits and the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk is signed. Germany again takes the offensive, but Marshal Foch, his troops now reinforced by the Americans orders a general attack. Finally Germany's allies surrender and the Armistice comes.

"Animated maps here show in detail the well-known terms of the Treaty of Versailles. President Wilson returns to the United States, where Congress rejects the Treaty and the League of Nations. The minority problems in Europe appear when the Treaty is put into effect. Greece and Turkey continue the fight, but Greece fails to conquer. So, in 1923, the First World War is over. But tomorrow's leaders—Stalin, Mussolini and Hitler—are toiling and scheming.

"A very good film for use in history classes at the senior high, college and adult levels; should be of value at the junior high level. The film is unbiased and is fairly accurate historically. To cover its subject in 22 minutes, its pace necessarily is rapid; it is probable, therefore, that at least two, and perhaps three, showings will be found desirable with accompanying study and discussion." Educational screen

"This film is in no way prejudiced, the facts are presented in a straight-forward truthful manner. Very complete and easily understood. An excellent film for political science and American history classes. Photography, sound and presentation of subject matter are excellent. Useful for social studies—American History—Political science." California

"There is a great advantage in being able to live over and over again Vice-President Wallace's address in his own voice. The addition of images to the verbal concepts sometimes defeats its own purpose, because the images instead of harmonizing with the words, tend to conflict. There is an emotional value of visualizing some of the phrases of this historic address: 'We who fight in the people's cause will never stop until that cause is won.' 'The people are on the march,' etc. Therefore, in spite of the sometimes poor visual track—this should be an excellent subject for classes in upper elementary school, and for community groups." "This documentary film opens with scenes of Alabama—negroes picking cotton, mules turning the sugar cane press, negroes boiling sugar cane sap to make sorghum—all to an accompaniment of Paul Robeson's chant of 'The Walls of Jericho.' Then, amid rumblings of distant cannon, a battle field scene is shown, an air-raid warning is sounded, the battle comes closer to Childersburg, Alabama, and men line up for strange new war jobs.

"Plans are completed for a $75,000,000 powder plant, and men and machinery go to work. People leave their farms so that the private buildings can be razed to make room for the federal project. . . Soldiers, tanks and equipment come pouring into the town. . . A whole new life mushrooms into existence, bringing with it open-air theaters, bunk houses, unions, trailer camps, lots of money, and boom times.

"This picture of prosperity is then compared with the events in 1917 when soldiers left for World War I, and mining and agriculture brought prosperity to the people of the valley. The period of depression following the first World War is then depicted with the mines closed, brush claiming most of the land, and farmers going from their farms to the roads.

"The commentary then explains that we do not want this to happen again; that every man's brain and muscle should be working for democracy; that a post-war prosperity won't just happen; that we must work for it. . . . If skillfully used, should provoke critical thought and discussion in both school and adult groups.

Drives home the fact that there is little difference, as far as results are concerned, between the patriotic but thoughtless American and the Axis saboteur

A girl inspecting rifle cartridges in a war plant—a patriotic American—takes time for an extra smoke, neglects to fill her place on the inspection line, and thus allows several boxes of uninspected cartridges to pass as O.K. One of these cartridges, a dud, later finds its way into the rifle of an American soldier somewhere in the South Pacific. On scouting patrol, he sights a Jap, aims, presses the trigger and fires—harmlessly. He is killed by a Jap bullet

Another patriotic American, a businessman, takes Saturday afternoon off to go to a ball game, fails to leave instructions with his secretary. Through his negligence, lifeboat supplies do not reach a convoy sailing for England. Their ship torpedoed, six American airmen drift 25 days in a lifeboat scantily provisioned. Five of the men lose their lives; the sixth, his mind

Canada has been at war since September, 1939. Factories were converted to war production, new plants were built, and from them came guns and tanks and shells

Canada became a haven for English children bombed from their homes, an internment camp for Nazi prisoners, a school for airmen from the whole British Empire, a hospital for men wounded overseas. Price control and rationing were instituted, men and women registered for national service

But the film is more than a story of production. It is a picture of the resolute spirit of Canadians. The thousand days from 1939 to 1942 were days of expansion and preparation, of holding off while getting ready. "But now it is our turn to strike, and we shall strike hard"

"Shows MacArthur's surprise move into Lingayen Gulf, the 11th Airborne Division striking from the sky, and the 37th Division Infantry in action. Fire envelops Manila, and thousands are homeless. The street by street fighting finally ends with the pealing of church bells heralding the city's liberation.

"Much action features the last half of the reel devoted to the capture of Iwo Jima by the U.S. Marines. Action of tanks equipped with flame throwers photographed through the tank's porthole gives a realistic feel of the fighting.

"A few somewhat rugged scenes may be a bit too strong for young eyes but not more so than the average war film of today." Film world

An account of an actual air raid by the Bomber command of the Royal air force. The picture begins with new aerial photographs of enemy territory brought back by reconnaissance planes. These disclose the objective to be raided. Then comes the staff planning, routine of preparing the bombers, getting weather reports, instructing the crews, and the tension of the evening take-off

From this point, the camera stays with the big Wellington bomber, named "F for Freddie", and its crew of six. "F for Freddie" reaches its destination, descends to bomb the target amidst a barrage of enemy anti-aircraft fire, and there is a spectacular explosion as the bombs find their mark. Its engine in trouble, its wireless operator wounded, the plane heads for home. The picture ends with the crew's report back to headquarters

"Nazi techniques of spreading hate and fear, distrust and confusion are drastically shown... Without pulling punches, the film shows how Hitler used all the devices of propaganda and espionage to destroy the morale of the French people: starting rumors of weaknesses and graft in the French Government, setting race and class against class, spreading the myth of invincibility of the German army, preaching that only Hitler would bring peace to Europe, encouraging defeatism and passivity among the French people. Through radio broadcasts, paid German agents, and fifth columnists, Hitler used the weapons of propaganda—words—to pave the way for bombs and shells and the Nazi armies.

"But, the film points out, let no one assume that the Nazis stopped with the subjugation of France. They are busy in America today—in subways, on streets, in restaurants—spreading the same seeds of distrust, confusion and fear. Ending upon a note of faith, the film states emphatically that we Americans will not be frightened, will not be confused." Indiana

Contrasts the economic background of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and life in early New England (1630), with the court of King Charles I. It reveals the political moves behind Thomas Morton's effort to discredit the Puritans in England and to bring about the revocation of their charter. Traces the rise of dissension within the colony, including the departure of Roger Williams, and portrays the capable leadership of Governor Winthrop in successfully bringing the colony through this dual crisis in its affairs

The commentator speaks of the grimness of some of the customs of the puritan period, and then we see a map locating the Massachusetts Bay Colony, as he tells of its origin and gives some points of its history

We then see actual scenes in the daily life of the people such as the governor and his assistants, speech making, and treatment of strangers. A few years later, some scenes of daily life. A little girl is scorned by other children because of her mother's reputation. Methods used to regulate the conduct of every person in the community are shown, using the same erring woman and her child as examples. There is a scene in church showing how the congregation was forcibly kept awake if necessary. We see some of the hardships—for instance, caring for the sick in cold weather when supplies were low. There is a homely scene of women washing clothes by the river. A man is seen in a stock, where he has been put because he laughed on the Sabbath. The film closes as the town crier calls "Nine o'clock and all's well"

"This film purports to be the history of the writing of the song 'Annie Laurie.' Douglas and Annie Laurie are in love, but must meet secretly because of warfare between their respective clans. Douglas writes 'Annie Laurie' and sings it to the girl during a rendezvous in her garden. When they are surprised by the Laurie menfolk, they ask permission to marry, but it is refused except on the condition that Douglas give up his name.

"Annie Laurie's father locks her in a tower, and later, when he returns from fighting with the Douglas clan, he tells her that her lover has been killed. The girl says that the song 'Annie Laurie' will live forever.

"Scenes showing the castle, a wishing chair, the Scottish countryside are good background material for students of Scottish folklore. The fancy harmonization of the simple song 'Annie Laurie,' however, detracts from its appeal and from its educational value.

"Story of village life in Norway set amongst beautiful scenery of fjords and mountains. The film depicts the family life of a Pastor beloved of his people, his simple faith in God through prayer, and his belief in God's power of healing a dying child when the doctor has given up all hope. The climax comes when his wife meets with an accident and is told it is doubtful whether she will walk again. He vows to pray for her recovery until his prayer is answered. It is, his wife walks, but only across the room, when she sinks in her husband's arms and dies.

"A sincere and impressive film. The acting is good, and the technical presentation first rate. This is a beautiful piece of work which, however, raises more questions than it solves. The one responsible should see the film before attempting to show it for religious purposes. Adults and adolescents. For general use, but specially suitable for discussion groups, or to precede an address on prayer. Highly recommended." British film Inst.

"Those colorful days in Lower Basin Street New Orleans, when the world's first white jazz band was fighting for recognition a generation ago, are re-enacted.

"Tells how jazz made its transition from the Negro to the white man, spreading from New Orleans to Chicago and thence to worldwide popularity.

"A . . . scene, in which Eddie Rochester demonstrates to Carolyn Lee how the pattern of a 'blues' song becomes the pattern of a dance, moving from step to step on the stairs with his broom, is one of the charming highlights of the film.

35mm rights owned by Tri-National. The film was produced by Tobis. French title is La Kermesse Heroique. This version not recommended for high school audiences. Another version which runs 85 min has been specially edited for high schools

Committee on exceptional photoplays of the National board of review has selected this film, from the book of the same title by Charles Spaak, as the best seen this year (1936). This is a French dialog film with English subtitles. Jacques Feyder directed. Received the Grand prix du cinema francais and the gold medal award of the Venice international exposition of cinematography

"The story tells of a town's predicament when, on the eve of a carnival, the Burgomaster and aldermen learn that the Spanish plan to spend the night there. The Spanish are a battalion of King Philip's army, which have thoroughly terrified Flanders. . . The Burgomaster has an idea. He will pretend to be dead in the hope that the Duke will pass through the village without stopping." N.Y. Sun

"Galle wit at its crispest delivered by a splendid cast who wear their ruffs and pantaloons with an air. This with direction, photography and music explains why the film won two coveted European cinema prizes. Adults." Christian science monitor

"The rarest thing in the cinema, a really adult film. . . It is an admirable film, a little obscene like most good comedies, and beautifully acted. . . M. Feyder's camera picks out with vividness and invention absurdities in costume and character and almost as skillfully as a Restoration dramatist he lightly works into his ribald story a touch of the genuine, the simple emotion." DOG STORY. 39min 16-sd-apply Hoffberg F

A kind-hearted park attendant finds a mother and her very small puppies. He takes them all home with him and cares for them. While the puppies are still very small he sells them to a dog "fancier" who takes them to the dog market. He succeeds in reselling all but one which he is unable to even give away. A flipped coin saves the pup from a watery grave. The man then fixes the small creature up to look less like a mongrel and writes a pedigree to go with him

The puppy is taken to the park and "planted" in front of a wealthy dowager who insists on purchasing him. A bath reveals him in his true colors and the butler is commissioned to dispose of him. He weakens as he is about to drown him and pays a junk man to take him away. From this situation the pup wanders out on to a road, is nearly run over and is picked up by a young woman who likes dogs. She takes him home where he is well cared for and fits into the family life very comfortably

He is initiated into the mysteries of his new home by an older dog and does some adventuring on his own also. He is instrumental in bringing about the end of a feud between the young woman's father and a personable young man from a neighboring farm and is well satisfied with himself as the film ends on a romantic note

LITTLE RED HEN AND LITTLE BLACK SAMBO. 1R 16-si-$32.50 1939 Thorne F p-el

These two simple stories make a really charming presentation. The sets are done in lovely detail, the puppets are well made and beautifully manipulated

The attractive little red hen wears a fetching little apron and the pig and the frog who refuse to help grow and grind the wheat and bake the cake are quite delightful. One has just a glimpse—but a very satisfying one—of the little red hen's five baby chicks. There are a number of simple repetitious titles to help little children to read

In the second part of this film Little Black Sambo parts with all his splendid new clothes to appease the ferocious tigers. Each tiger then boasts in turn of being the finest tiger (the one with the umbrella fastened to his tail is particularly funny) and finally they stage the famous race about the tree—racing until nothing is left but lovely melted butter

Little Black Sambo is served pancakes for supper, and, of course, he was able to recover his fine clothes

"The story is a simple, romantic one, filled with good humor and fun, and typically Hispanic.

"Picafior, or 'Hummingbird', is owner of a small cargo boat on the Rio de la Plata. He is like his namesake in that he fits from 'flower to flower' among the pretty girls who live on the little islands which crowd the river, never paying court to any one of them for long. A new school teacher arrives in the village and Picafior and Chingolo, another boatman, fall for her. She spends more time with Picafior than with Chingolo so that the latter becomes jealous and reveals to the customs officers the fact that Picafior is going to take part in a deal to smuggle some silk from one of the islands to the port.

"Picafior is called in by the customs officers, and through promises of a reward if he will tell who is the ringleader of the smugglers, is persuaded to turn state's evidence and the smuggler captain is caught. Picafior has to go into hiding for his part in tattling to the customs officers, and the school teacher hides him. She tells him that she loves him. Picafior finds Chingolo and beats him up. But in the end he brings Chingolo and the teacher together.

PROFESSOR MAMLOCK. 96min 16-sd-sale

An Amkino release which was produced by Lenfilm studios, Russia. Has English dialogue titles. It is based on Friedrich Wolf's play of the same name

Professor Mamlock is a noted surgeon.
His sole interests are his science and his family. His son, Rolf, a student, is a Communist. At his clinic, the professor finds that his chief assistant, Dr. Hellpach, has been made Nazi commissar

Hellpach denounces Mamlock for his Jewish blood, interrupts an operation and forces Mamlock to march through the streets surrounded by storm-troopers with the word
"Jude" painted on his surgical gown

Meantime an important Nazi leader is stricken and requires an operation for which Mamlock has won renown. He insists on Mam-lock and a Nazi lieutenant goes to Mamlock and begs him to operate. His doctor's oath moves Mamlock to consent. After the operation however, Hellpach forces the professor's colleagues to sign a forged document against Mamlock. As a protest, he attempts suicide, and is retained for treatment

Rolf and his friend Ernst meanwhile are being subjected to tortures upon refusing to betray the names of their co-workers. Their escape is arranged by a group of sympathizers as they are being taken to concentration camp.
In the fight, Ernst is wounded and Rolf takes him to the clinic. An alarm is given by Hellpach and the clinic is surrounded by storm troopers. In the midst of the turmoil Professor Mamlock goes to the balcony of the clinic, makes a speech to the silent crowd below him.
The speech is cut short by a stream of machine-gun bullets

The final scene is a meeting of the underground committee determining to carry on the fight

"An engrossing, sincere, admirably played and frequently highly dramatic film. . . It is not only that the cobblestones are real or that the men and women are real instead of extras, or that neither they, nor we, ever are conscious of the camera's presence. It has something to do with the Russian ability to train lens and lights upon a mass of men and women and reduce them to a single dramatic mood—panic, suspense, rage, fear or horror."
N.Y. Times

play. They have broadened the scope of Mr.
Wolf's play to make it a savage chronicle.
'Professor Mamlock' is a partisan and powerful motion picture." N.Y. Herald-Tribune

"Judged either as entertainment or propaganda, 'Professor Mamlock' is a powerful picture. Its grimly melodramatic story is continuously absorbing, while its anti-Nazi argument carries a devastating wallop. . . an arresting picture that is sure to arouse strenuous comment." Variety

"Four novels framed by a prologue and epilogue. . . Different in content. . . Different in location. . . Different in landscape, people, customs. Opposite in rhythm and form, they create a vast and multi-colored Film-Symphony about Mexico. Four Mexican folk-songs accompanying these novels." Thus Sergei Eisenstein described the conception of his film, "Que Viva Mexico!" on which "Time in the Sun" is based

It is a love story, of the people for the land and of the sun for the people. Each of the four "novels" are characterized by a love story set against characteristic backgrounds; the two lovers on the lagoon in ancient Mayan days; the wedding festival of Tehuantepec, matriarchy, with the shy bridegroom and Amazonian bride; the peon of the "Maguey" episode, whose bride is raped by the hacendado; and, finally, the love and merry-making during "Calaveras"

"Here is a truly historic film, made with the collaboration of the United States Marine Corps, and endorsed by United States Navy authorities.

"As nearly as possible it is a reproduction of actual events on Wake Island when United States forces made an overwhelming number of Japanese pay a high price for their capture of the island.

"Although there is no plot other than the complete story of the attack, the defense, and the capture of Wake Island, there is much individualizing of persons, so that appeal to sympathetic human interest is made notably strong. Fortunately, indeed, all romantic love

"The adventure of two Eagle Scouts on a trip to Central America. A story of their fight through the jungle after their crash in an airplane." School management

"This film displays the work of the Boy Scout in actual situations. The scout laws are brought out clearly through the adventure of the two boys, and their dog Johnson who brought a lot of human interest into the story.

The wild animal life added excitement and thrills to the story.

"The audience could be held for a long period with this picture as you did not know what was going to happen next. The crash of the plane at the end of the first reel and the quick planning of the events to follow made the two boy scouts outstanding figures in the feature.

"Of all features I have seen for boys I don't know of any other film as interesting as this one. I called in three scout leaders to see the film and their opinion was, "That is the best film we have seen for boys." J.K.W.
